SYMPATHY FOR FAMILY SHOWN

Letters of Condolence Pour in From
All Parts of State on Account
of Death of Ben L. Smith

ONE FROM GOVERNOR RALSTON

Impressive Ceremony is Held at Residence This Afternoon When
Last Rites Take Place

The funeral services of the late Ben L. Smith were conducted this afternoon at the late residence by the Rev. D. Ira Lambert, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The Rush County Bar Association, of which Mr. Smith was a prominent member, attended the services in a body. Representatives from the bars of the surrounding counties were also present.

The beautiful and impressive ceremony of the Knights Templar was conducted at the residence instead of the cemetery on account of the weather. The following acted as pall bearers: Judge Douglas Morris, Col. E. H. Wolfe, R. G. Budd, Thomas A. Jones, William McMillin and Dr. Will C. Smith.

The members of Mr. Smith's family received a large number of letters from all parts of the state, expressing sympathy. The letters all show the high esteem in which Mr. Smith was held, not only by his profession, but by others as well.

The following is the letter of Governor Samuel M. Ralston: "No matter what the age or circumstances, death always comes as a shock; and one's father never grows so old that he is not missed and mourned by those who remain. You have my sincere sympathy in your great loss."

Others who sent letters to the family included John L. Rupe of Richmond; L. J. Hackney, Cincinnati, general counsel of the Big Four railway; and Morrison R. Waite, general solicitor of the C. & D. Judge Hackney said in part: "I am pained to learn of the death of Mr. Smith. For many years I have enjoyed his friendship. I can well understand your loss and that of your community."

The Rush County Bar association met in court room at 12:30 o'clock to pay respects to the memory of the late Mr. Smith. Judge Douglas Morris responded to the resolutions in behalf of the local bar. Speakers from other cities included Judge K. M. Hord, Judge Alonzo Blair, and Ed K. Adams of Shelbyville; D. W. McKee and Judge-elect Raymond Springer.

Tribute to Mr. Smith was paid by all of the speakers. His loyalty to his clients and his career as an attorney were reviewed at length and the entire proceeding was made a part of the court record. The resolutions as prepared by the committee composed of Frank J. Hall, Geo. W. Young and Samuel L. Trabue are as follows:

In Memoriam.

Ben L. Smith was born November 29th, 1835, in Union township, Rush county, Indiana, and died in Rushville, Indiana, December 25th, 1915. He was the son of Ebenezer and Mary A. Smith, and a grandson of Moses Smith, who was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He attended district school in the old log school house on the county line and afterwards attended the Fairview Academy. He entered Asbury University (now DePauw) at Greencastle, Indiana, in September, 1853 and graduated from that institution in 1857. He then read law with Judge Delaney R. Eckles at Greencastle, Indiana, and began the practice of

BROKEN AXLE THE CAUSE

Four Freight Cars Derailed on C. I.
& W. Here Today

A broken axle on a freight car caused four loaded cars of an east-bound freight on the C. I. & W. to be derailed this morning about one o'clock near the Arthur street crossing. One car was loaded with corn. Fortunately enough, the mishap occurred alongside a siding and all trains were sent around the derailed cars without any loss of time. A wrecking crew came from Indianapolis and righted the cars.

RUSHVILLE MAN VISITS IN JUAREZ

Walter E. Smith One of Two Americans That Visit in Mexican City After Rioting.

EVERYONE CARRIED A GUN

Walter E. Smith of this city, who has been touring the west and who is expected home about the first of the year, was in El Paso, Texas the day after several persons were killed in Juarez, Mexico, just across the river last week, according to a postal card he wrote a friend here. He was very much disappointed when he arrived in El Paso and found he could not go on over into Mexico. However, the day after his arrival, the cars were running, and the first car over carried two Americans, one of whom was the Rushville man.

The car was guarded by Mexican soldiers riding aboard during the time the car was on Mexican soil. Mr. Smith writes that he has enjoyed the sights in the south very much. He says he carries the impression that about ninety-five per cent of the residents of El Paso are Mexicans. Mr. Smith was with an Elk from Globe, Arizona, who formerly lived at El Paso and spoke Spanish fluently. He says that he was glad to get back on American soil because everyone in Juarez carried a gun.

L. C. SHARP ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

Man Whose Meat Shop Was Raided
Saturday Night Gives Bond
For Appearance at Trial.

WAINSCOTT STILL IN JAIL

Luther C. Sharp was placed under arrest late yesterday afternoon as a result of a raid on his meat market in West Second street Saturday night. He entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of illegal sale and illegal possession of intoxicating liquor and gave bond for his appearance. The date for the trial has not yet been determined.

At the Sharp place the police found two full quarts of whiskey and part of a third quart. He maintains that the whiskey was for his own use and that it was received in a shipment in conjunction with ten other men.

No disposition has yet been made of the case of Milton Waincott, held on a similar charge. Waincott is still in jail, being unable to obtain bond. At the Waincott home in West Second street the police located seven quarts of whiskey.

WATSON MAKES A TOUR OF DECATUR

Closes Day's Campaign in Adjoining
County Monday With Speech at
Greensburg at Night

LARGE CROWDS GREET HIM

Has Kind Words For Opponent,
Harry S. New, But Claims
Advantage Due to Experience.

James E. Watson closed a tour of Decatur county in the interest of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the United States senate with a speech at the G. A. R. hall in Greensburg Monday night. He visited all of the towns in the county and greeted old friends.

Mr. Watson arrived at Sandusky at 8:45 Monday morning, according to the Greensburg Review, and was met at the train by the following party of Greensburg men in three cars who accompanied him on his tour: W. C. Pulse, G. S. Littell, E. E. Doles, J. P. Thomson, Charles M. Woodfill, C. E. Remy, Everett Arbuckle, L. D. Braden, N. T. Rogers, Arthur Lowe, Frank Hamilton and S. V. Pleak.

The party arrived at Clarksburg at 9:15 o'clock slightly in advance of the schedule. Mr. Watson got busy shaking hands and calling fellows by their first names as of old and showed that he had lost none of his well known skill as a mixer.

Some one suggested a speech and in a few minutes a half hundred voters were in Tarplee's hall where Mr. Watson talked briefly.

He said frankly that he was a candidate and "by the eternals he wanted to be nominated and elected." He had nothing but kind words for his opponent, Harry S. New, but claimed an immense advantage over him by his ten years' experience in congress.

Mr. Watson made one statement that was somewhat surprising to most of his hearers. He said the majority of the Progressive party in 1912 and 1914 were for him. He said they had told him they were for him because they always knew where to find him and that he never "struck below the belt." The world likes a fighter when he fights fairly for a principle, he said.

About an hour was spent in Clarksburg after which the party started for Newport, arriving there at 11 o'clock. It was raining. There were forty or fifty men in waiting there and all wanted a speech. The crowd went to the hall where the distinguished visitor spoke briefly. There was at Clarksburg Watson brought into play his good right arm and hand-clasp.

The party arrived here at noon and dined at the Seitz Cafe and were off promptly at 1 o'clock for Adams.

Reports from the various places over the county visited by the party Monday afternoon are to the effect that despite the bad weather he was greeted by good crowds and that he had the opportunity of meeting many old acquaintances. At Adams a large crowd of men and women listened to a fifteen minutes speech.

He was greeted by large crowds at Milford and Burney, and the other stops on the route.

NO DESIRE TO PROSECUTE.

Through a typographical error, the story Monday about the two dresses being taken from the porch of R. F. Seudder's home Christmas eve was made to read that Mr. Seudder would prosecute if he could find the offender, through the omission of the word "no." It should have been, as Mr. Seudder said, that he would not prosecute under any consideration, but that he would like to have the dresses returned.

JURY LOOKS TO BE DEADLOCKED

No Verdict Returned in the Crawley
Murder Case After All Night
Session at Connersville.

A METAMORA MURDER CASE

Self Defense is Plea of John R.
Crawley, Who Was Charged
With Killing Father-in-Law.

(By United Press.)

Connersville, Ind., Dec. 28.—The jury in the case of John R. Crawley of Metamora, charged with the murder of his father-in-law, Moses Whitney, was still out at two o'clock this afternoon. The jury appeared to be hopelessly deadlocked and unable to reach a verdict, although this opinion was not held by many, who confidently expect the fate of Crawley to be decided definitely one way or the other. The jury was out all night and the belief that no verdict would result was strengthened because of this.

The case went to the jury yesterday afternoon about three-thirty o'clock. The case attracted considerable attention here and in surrounding counties. It reached the Fayette circuit court on a change of venue from Franklin.

Crawley maintained that he killed his father-in-law, Moses Whitney in self-defense. The principle witness against him was his wife. The closing day of the trial was devoted to the closing argument. Prosecutor Edwards was the first speaker. He talked for over an hour, declaring that Crawley killed the aged Mr. Whitney without cause.

Raymond Springer, attorney for the defendant, was the second speaker. In a clear, steady and well controlled voice, he gave one of the most forceful addresses ever heard in the local court room. He cited several instances that might prove that the alleged murdered shot in self-defense. He asked that the jury give Crawley the benefit of any doubt.

Mr. Springer was followed by M. P. Hubbard of Brookville, also an attorney for Crawley. Mr. Hubbard maintained that Whitney was the aggressor in the trouble that resulted in his death. The final address for the state was delivered by I. N. McCarty, prosecuting attorney of Franklin county.

PRESIDENT WILSON IS 59

Telegrams From All Over Country
Only Indication of Birthday

Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 28.—President Wilson celebrated his 59th birthday today quietly with his bride. The only indication that the Executive has passed another milestone was the scores of telegrams from his friends in all parts of the world.

In health and spirit the President is many years younger than 59. His hair is quite gray, but he stands erect, 5 11 inches in his stocking feet. Recently he tipped the scales at 171 pounds. He walks a great deal and plays lots of golf. Woodrow Wilson was born at Staunton, Va., December 28, 1856. His father was the Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, a distinguished scholar and clergyman of the south, and his mother Jessie Woodrow Wilson. His ancestry on both sides is Scotch-Irish.

—W. T. Monk of Batesville was a visitor here today.

The latest information had General Castelnau in Athens. Seventy-nine persons drowned. The vessel was torpedoed without warning and sunk in fifteen minutes. There were no Americans aboard.

WHOLE MATTER TO BE CLEARED UP SOON

Question of Submarine Warfare Will be Settled in Austrian Reply to Ancona Note.

IS FORTHCOMING THIS WEEK

(By United Press.)

Berlin, (Via Amsterdam), Dec. 28.—The entire question of submarine warfare as affecting the United States may be cleared up within a few days, the United Press learned from authoritative sources today. Austria's reply to the second Ancona note will be handed to Ambassador Penfield this week. Assurance comes from reliable quarters that it is "satisfactory and final."

There is a strong party in the dual Monarchy that has insisted that friendly relations with America be maintained. This party apparently has the upper hand.

TWO BIDS RECEIVED BY COMMISSIONERS

County Printing Awards Were to be Made This Afternoon, With Some Competition Shown.

LEVY BROTHERS ARE BACK

The county commissioners received two bids on the county printing contract for 1916 when bids were called for this afternoon. The bidders were Levy Brothers and Company of Indianapolis and A. E. Boyce and Company of Muncie. At a late hour today the commissioners were still considering the bids, but indications were that the Muncie firm would get the contract.

The bids were readjusted after the commissioners decided that to get a better price a little competition was necessary. At the first opening of the bids Levy Brothers was the only firm bidding. In their bid today Levy Brothers cut the price of several articles over that of the first bid.

The commissioners were in session all day. The morning was taken up with the allowing of gravel road claims. The board will be in session again Friday when the year's business will be closed.

FUNERAL HELD YESTERDAY.

The funeral services of Miss Lovinna Morris, 12 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Morris, who died last Friday evening, were conducted Monday morning at the late residence near Orange and burial took place in the North cemetery there. She had been in for several months and death was not unexpected.

YEAR WILL STAND BANNER SEASON

Probably More Political Activity
For "Off Year" in 1915 Than Ever Before in Indiana.

NO CLOSE SEASON HERE

Big State-Wide Rally in Indianapolis
Is December 30 Will be Climax
to Eventful Year.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 28.—The year that is closing will probably long stand as the banner season for political activity in Indiana during what is generally termed an "off year" and the fact that practically all of this activity has been confined to Republicans goes to make 1915 even more remarkable in the political annals of the state.

The next day after the 1914 election, Republican state chairman, Will H. Hays, announced in a public interview that there would be no closed season in Indiana Republican politics, and the events of the past indicate that the Republicans of Indiana took him at his word and approved his decision with enthusiasm. With the opening of the new year Republican meetings began to be scheduled in various sections of the state with the result that during the winter and spring months demonstrations of unusual size and enthusiasm were held in every district in Indiana. It was supposed that a decided let up would come with the summer months but instead the activity seemed to increase, picnics, bean dinners, barbecues and burgoos feasts becoming the order of the day. The net result was that when the fall season came on three and four Republican meetings were being held each week. When the weather became too cold for outdoor meetings, the banquet season opened promptly.

The big state wide rally to be held in Indianapolis on Dec. 30th will mark the climax of this year of unusual activity and from all indications it will be a fitting close to a busy year. That it will in no sense tend to slow up Republican work is indicated by the fact that already six or eight Republican county meetings are scheduled to be held during January.

The significant thing regarding the 1915 Republican meetings, according to party workers, is the fact that the demand for all these meetings came from the precincts and townships instead of from state headquarters. In this respect the meetings were in sharp contrast to the few meetings held by the Democrats during the year. Not until the Democratic state leaders had become thoroughly alarmed at the ac-

Good time to Buy Furs

Custom has made Christmas week a great Fur buying occasion.

The merchants provide liberal stocks and frequently offer unusually attractive prices.

But furs are something that must be bought with caution.

There is plenty of room for deception—for the foisting off of cheaper skins under high sounding names.

The buyer should patronize the store of sound repute where a guarantee is certain.

And the guide to such stores will be found in the advertising in The Daily Republican.

FOR BRONCHITIS, PAINFUL COUGH, WHOOPING COUGH AND COLDS

Cheapest Remedy Made at Home— 128 Teaspoonsful for 50 Cents.

When in need of a remedy for the treatment of Bronchial Affections, such as Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Stabborn Coughs, Colds or Hoarseness, don't simply ask the druggist for a "Cough Medicine" but get the best. Tell him to give you Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectorant, instead of being induced into buying something else purely on the strength of some testimonial or the exaggerated claims of the manufacturer. The same "Money Back" guarantee goes with every bottle of this remedy sold by Fox Bros., as does with Dr. Schiffman's famous Asthmador and your money will be refunded, if it does not give perfect satisfaction; in fact even more, if it is not found the best remedy ever used for these affections. In buying this new remedy, besides securing the guarantee these druggists give, it will likewise be found the most economical to use for the reason that one bottle (50 cents' worth) makes a full pint (128 teaspoonsful) of the most excellent cough medicine, after being mixed at home with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water. One bottle will probably, therefore, be sufficient for a whole family's supply the entire winter, while the same quantity of the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds of medicine would cost between $2 and $3. It is prepared from strictly harmless plants, contains absolutely no chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic or injurious drugs as do most cough remedies, and it can therefore be given to children with perfect safety. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. Absolutely no risk whatever is run in buying this remedy under the above positive guarantee. R. J. Schiffmann, Prop., St. Paul, Minn.

ATTENDANCE NOT MERELY TO ATTEND

Resolution of State Board Received Here Defines Term as Being Broader Than Understood.

CHILD MUST BE SUPPLIED

James G. Miller, attendance officer for Rush county, has received a copy of a resolution adopted by the state board of truancy in which the word "attendance" is defined. Under the ruling of the board the child must not merely attend school, but must be equipped with books and other necessary supplies.

The resolution is as follows: "Be it resolved by the state board of truancy, that under the school attendance law (Acts of 1913, page 616) it hereby defines the word "attendance" as follows:

"That the attendance of a child at school shall mean the presence of such child in school each day, equipped with books and other necessary supplies, or a proper showing shall be made by parents, guardian or other person having the control or charge of such child that said parents, guardian or other person does not have sufficient means to furnish such child with the books and clothing necessary to such attendance at school.

"Be it further resolved, that in each case of tardiness or absence of a child from school a written excuse or explanation therefor shall be made to the teacher by the parents, guardian or other person having the control or charge of such child."

CHARGES DOWN A HILL BACKWARDS

Lester Smith's Automobile Becomes Unruly and Turns Turtle After a Wild Ride.

TOP BARELY SAVES HIS LIFE

Lester Smith of this city had a wild ride backwards in an automobile down a steep hill on the road between here and Connersville Saturday night, according to a story in the Connersville Examiner. The accident happened just west of Asa Breen's farm. The car started backward when about half-way up the hill. The driver attempted to apply the emergency brake, but this device would not work. The car continued to gain speed and when it reached the base of the steep incline, it was traveling at forty miles per hour. The driver realized that he was in a serious position. He knew that only a few yards westward, a creek crossed the road. Thinking that he could not possibly steer the unmanageable machine across the span, he gave the wheel a sharp turn, throwing the car into the ditch. The machine turned turtle, with the driver beneath. Fortunately the canopy top prevented young Smith from being crushed under the heavy weight. He was able to crawl from the wreck, and made his way to a near-by farm house, where assistance was summoned.

Mr. Smith did not know that the mechanical parts were damaged till the car stopped on the hill. Had the emergency brake took effect then, no accident would have resulted. Some part of the clutch apparatus gave way, and thus the machine was left without locomotive power. He was returning from a trip to Glen Bush when the accident occurred.

Machinists at Work.

A dispatch from Bluffton in the Indianapolis News details the work of the machinists of the Democratic party in Indiana. It is interesting to note that Frank C. Dailey, who recently sent in his resignation as United States district attorney for Indiana, had his announcement as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor ready for release when J. A. M. Adair telephoned the newspapers he was a candidate and Dailey refused to get into the race.

Dailey's alleged excuse was that his candidacy would complicate affairs because he and Adair both hail from the eighth district, but the dispatch from Bluffton purports that the real reason of Dailey's refusal to seek the nomination after the entrance of Adair was that Crawford Fairbanks, the Terre Haute brewer and so-called "bank roll" of the machine, had offered to wager that Dailey would never be the Democratic candidate for governor.

The Bluffton dispatch declares that George L. Saunders, editor of the Bluffton Banner, prepared the announcement of Dailey's candidacy and had it up in type ready for release on a certain Monday recently when Adair, on the morning of that same day, called up some of the Democratic newspapers in the eighth district and announced that he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination and Dailey refused to get a candidate. That announcement never saw a press and never will, because it was "thrown in" without ever knowing what the smell of printing ink really is. Mr. Dailey later resigned as district attorney when he was offered a good place in an Indianapolis law firm.

Mr. Adair recently made a speech at Peru, in which he said he was not the candidate of any ring or machine. This indicates that he has been compelled to deny such an accusation, but the evidence is rather preponderant against such assertions.

J. Forenoon Adair, Democratic candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, will have to get up earlier in the day if he gets away after the poor start he made. Not meaning the nomination, of course, but that little race that will be staged after the perfunctory selection of a Democratic candidate for governor is made.

Governor Ralston's recent letter to Judge Ellis of Muncie on the question of law enforcement in that city may not have been for political effect, but at any rate the letter has been sent out to the Democratic press of Indiana in "boiler plate" form and many have printed it.
Judge Ellis can hardly be blamed for complaining because Governor Ralston gave the letter out to the Indianapolis Star and it was in print before it had been received by Judge Ellis. Being made the "goat" of any transaction is always objectionable.

 YEAR'S REVIEW OF WAR *
* FROM FRENCH VIEWPOINT ***

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, Dec. 28.—Five significant events punctuated the year just drawing to a close as seen from the French point of view: The Battle of Champagne, the Balkan muddle, the change of Governments, the creation of an Inter-Ally War Council and the nomination of General Joffre as Commander-in-Chief of all the French armies, whatever the theatre of operations.

On the whole France regards the past year as one without brilliance so far as she or the Allies are concerned. Her victories have been rather negative. While her enemy has been making some great runs around the ends she and those fighting with her, have succeeded in keeping the ball pretty well in the middle of the field. The first half of the game seems about over, the Teutons have the ball but there have been no touchdowns. That is about the way the common sense Frenchman sizes up the situation at the close of 1915.

The Battle of Champagne was important because it was the very first battle to be fought under present, trench-perfect conditions; it gave the French soldier a proper measure of himself. Though no important strategic point was gained by this of the enemy and a proper measure victory, undoubtedly it will have its effect on 1916 operations because it settled several important points.

The Inter-Ally war Council leads Frenchmen to believe that the mistakes of the past are not likely to be repeated; from now on they have determined that the war plans of the Allies will dove-tail and that the coming year will register some real results.

The Balkan muddle has given France more anxiety, perhaps, than any other phase during 1915. Frenchmen openly admit failure there both diplomatically and military. Greece three times offered to join the Allies, once even before the Battle of the Marne in 1914, but each time she was refused admission. Then, when the Allies had fallen down at the Dardanelles and in Bulgaria and asked her to come in, she had changed her mind. It is admitted in certain circles, that had France and the Allies acted in concert and at the proper time, there is not the slightest doubt that Greece would have led the dance, that Bulgaria and Roumania would today be fighting on the Allies' side and that the multi-colored flags of Germany's opponents would today be floating over the minarets of Constantinople.

The resignation of Theophile Delcasse, considered one of the greatest of Frenchmen from the office of Minister of Foreign Affairs, was due uniquely to the Balkan developments.
Some say he opposed the sending of troops to Salonica; others declare he long ago advocated Big Stick methods in the Near East and that because his diplomacy there was not strongly backed up, King Ferdinand joined hands with the Kaiser instead of with the Allies. Take your choice.
Whatever his reasons for resigning, his departure was the occasion of a complete reorganization of the Government. Premier Rene Viviani resigning to make way for M. Aristide Briand. The presence of Mr. Briand as Prime Minister is significant. He is known as a man of action, of initiative and strong measures.

The nomination of General Joffre as supreme Generalissimo of all the French troops means two things:
First that Joffre will have absolute authority in disposing his armies and planning campaigns; Second, the French hope that the English will take the hint and agree to a full and complete co-ordination of all available forces. Competent authorities agree that German successes have been the result of a central control of effective, permitting rapid decisions quickly put into effect, whereas the Allies have not acted properly in concert and when at last after long delays they did get together, the measures agreed upon were slowly put into operation. The Inter-Ally War Council, composed of men who have the power to act, as, it is said, Joffre will have from now on, ought to show results during the coming year.

Summed up, France's last year has been largely one of preparation.
She hopes the coming year will be one of execution. People here call the new cabinet the Cabinet of Victory just as they call the new French loan of about 20 billion francs, the Loan of Victory.

The Frenchman hopes for peace during 1916. He considers the American peace talk the greatest puzzle of the year because peace now could mean but one thing: Defeat for the Allies.

The elevation of Joffre to his new position is an official commendation of his war policy, summed up by the experts as wearing the enemy down by "attrition," which Joffre calls
"nibbling." Naturally this policy will be in force so long as Joffre is in the saddle. France made three heavy drives at the Germans during 1915, in March, May and September, but these drives were all feelers, I am told, to test the strength of the German line. The French soldier will tell you that French Man-power will outlast German Man-power, thanks to Joffre's nibbling; that sooner or later the German wall of steel will prove to be imitation, and, following a feeler the real drive will pour through the hole thus made and end the row.

A Berlin interview quotes General von Kluck as forecasting a drive towards Paris next spring. A French general told me that he hoped von Kluck was right as in that case the slaughter of Germans would be on such a vast scale that the whole world would gasp, used as it is to baths in blood. Those who have inspected the some 50-mile width of American barbedwire between Paris and the front, while not doubting that another attempt is possible, or even probable, fail to see how it can succeed.

Here then, is the forecast for 1916:

Comparative quiet along the Western front until Spring; then general offensives, both French and German; operations probable throughout the summer with a decision of some sort in the Fall.

This is a guess, but it is as good as any, whether from a general or a private. Of only one thing can one be certain: All the Expert dope is wrong.

This is an unusual plan, but Miona has so much merit and is so almost invariably successful in relieving all forms of indigestion that they run but little risk in selling under a guarantee of this kind

Do not be miserable or make your doesn't tell Johnson's Drug Store you want your money back and he will cheerfully refund it.

A change for the better will be seen from the first few doses of Miona and its continued use will soon start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

Mio-na has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve.
What fairer proposition could be made?

Johnson's Drug Store give their personal guarantee of "money back

Mio-na that they sell. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

STILL CARRIES OLD TIME FORCE

Monroe Doctrine is as Forceful as Ever, Declares Secretary
Lansing at Congress

PAN-AMERICANISM DEFINED

Chilean Ambassador Suarez Accepts
New Doctrine in His Speech—
Will Rule The World

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 28.—Positive declaration by Secretary Lansing that the Monroe doctrine still carries the force that has left it unchallenged through four decades marked the first session of the Pan-American Scientific congress her today.
Warm acceptance of the doctrine of Pan-Americanism featured the address of Chilean Ambassador Suarez chairman.

"The Monroe doctrine is the national policy of the United States;
Pan-Americanism is an internal policy of the Americas," Lansing said.
"The motives are to an extent different; the ends sought are the same.
Both can exist without impairing the force of either. And both do exist, and I trust, will ever exist in all their vigor."

The secretary drew a comparison between nationalism and internation-alism.

"Internationalism," he said, "appeared to be an increasing influence throughout the civilized world when the present war of empires, that great manifestation of nationalism, stayed its progress in Europe and brought discouragements to those who had hoped the new idea would usher in a new area of universal peace and justice. Let us hope it is the final outburst of cardinal evil of that idea which has for nearly a century spread its baleful influence over the world."

"Pan-Americanism is an expression of the idea of internationalism.
America has become the guardian of that idea, which will in the end rule the world."

Latin-America likes the United States' new Pan-American policy.
Definite assurances of this were given Monday as the representatives of 20 American Republics responded to the welcome
Vice-President Marshall and Secretary Lansing extended to the second Pan-American Scientific conference. Both speakers emphasized the new policy of non-interference in the affairs of other American nations. The object of the conference is to bring about closer co-operation in Pan-American relations in solving transportation, financial and scientific problems of common interest.
President Wilson's recently announced interest in Pan-American matters gave it an unusual importance. Every one of the 21 Republies in the Western hemisphere is represented. Argentine appropriated $90,000 for its part in the 13-day session. An elaborate series of entertainments for the delegates, and their wives has been arranged. Chief of these are the Pan-American reception at the White House, Jan. 7 and a farewell banquet, Jan. 8, both considered diplomatically important.

Nine out of ten persons have this dread disease

Pyorrhea—the most general disease in the world—is the disease you should be guarding your teeth against. It is caused by a germ which is found in every human mouth.

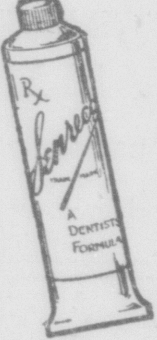

Thousands have already lost some or all of their teeth from this disease; in thousands it has reached the stage of bleeding gums and loose teeth; in thousands of others the germ, unsuspected, is just starting its work of destruction. Start today to guard your teeth from the dread results of this disease by using a corrective and preventive treatment in your daily toilet.

To meet the need for such a treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste.

STANDARDS NEED TO BE DEVELOPED

Annual Report of Children's Bureau of U. S. Department of Labor is Made Public

ILLITERACY IS GREATER

In Rural Communities, Therefore, Need For Development of Child's Welfare is Seen

The need for developing standards of rural child welfare, physical standards for children in industry, and standards of law for the protection of all children, is the key note of the third annual report of the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor which was made public today.

"Three-fifths of the 30,000,000 children in the United States are rural children. What are the facts as to rural child welfare? They are not known. But it is noteworthy that the percentage of illiteracy in rural communities, according to the 1910 census, is double that in cities. Where the rural child labor is great, the percentage of child illiteracy is high. The juvenile delinquency laws on the statute books of most of our States are ineffective over the greater part of those States because rural probation officers are lacking; the figures of correctional institutions show that the country is largely represented.

"Time and money are required to secure the facts about the physical, social, and economic conditions surrounding rural children, but these conditions must be understood if we are to be sure that we are making progress in securing a fair chance for every child."

"As a general rule compulsory school attendance ceases at the age of 14, the crucial point of maturing life, which educator and physiologist well know to be the most critical period of growth. Yesterday great authorities were experimenting on the best methods of training their minds, of developing their bodily powers. Today the same children are beyond the reach of all this costly solicitude—they have gone to work.

After quoting the opinion of various scientists, the report continues: "Full and intelligent protection of the physique and mental powers of the youthful workers of this country requires costly and laborious in laboratory and in workshop. The Children's Bureau desires to submit the reasonableness of spending money to make them so that we may secure just standards for the use of labor, as new standards for material are being developed."

"Various States have secured commissions to review and codify the laws relating to children. The needs of unfortunate children have first engaged the attention of philanthropic persons. But in preparing a complete code for the children of any State, the rights of all children must be considered. The study of legislation affecting children in the various States and Territories which the law requires the Children's Bureau to make should afford an increasing body of information at the service of those engaged in codifying the children's laws of any State."

The Bureau reports a year of activity dealing with eight different phases of child welfare. It has been studying the social causes of infant mortality, doing constructive work for child hygiene, co-operating in a general test of birth registration, preparing a report on social care of mental defectives and of illegitimate children, reviewing the principles of community provision for recreation, compiling laws relating to children and analyzing the administration of child labor laws and street trade regulations in selected typical States. It has also begun certain experimental activities which will prepare the way for the detailed studies of rural child welfare and the physical effects of child labor which it will undertake at some future time when staff and equipment permit.

RETURNS TO SCENE OF BIRTH

Marquis of Queensbury Championship First Fought at New Orleans.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 28.—The Marquis of Queensbury championship is to return to the scene of its birth, New Orleans, if Jess Willard defends his championship in the Crescent City next March according to terms of the contract with Fulton. It will be the first time since Corbett knocked out Sullivan that New Orleans has seen a heavyweight title bout. The Corbett-Sullivan fight was the first staged under Marquis of Queensbury rules. It marked the passing of the bare knuckle fighter and introduced the knight of the padded mitt.

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

BY MARGARET MASON
 (Written for United Press.)

Let a dear little maid
 Take a dear little fan
 And the things that she can
 Do to any poor man
 Are a lot I'm afraid.

New York, Dec. 28.—When the snow flies, little Miss Up-to-date takes her fan in hand even as she dons fur in August swelter. She would as soon think of going to opera or ball fanless as manless. And what fans! Fine feathers certainly make fine fans and fans of a feather flock together this season as never before.

But they don't open and shut together as much as they used to do, for the very newest form of feather fan is as old as the Queen of Sheba and consists of a gorgeous cluster of ostrich plumes poised on a single stick of sawed ivory, amber or tortoise shell.

The most vivid hued ostrich plumes are used and bright purple, yellow, green or blue, they make an effective high light of color for any costume.

The white or black feather fans seem still to cling to the open and shut model with their sticks of tortoise shell or amber usually gold inlaid or gem encrusted.

Ostrich feather fans still open and shut also but they aren't quite on the level either. Instead of forming the orthodox, symmetrical semi-sphere of a fan, they begin stubby and low down on one side and work up gradually to their highest point on the opposite side.

Peacock feather fans are the most fancied of fantastic fans. They come either in the open and shut model or in the one stick effects. The latter are stunning and oriental on long, carved handles of gold inlaid ivory hand-carved, or jade.

Behind the many glowing eyes in the peacock's tail feathers, you can but expect a fair maid to make more eyes. Nor is it surprising that she could be much eyed.

Square fans that aren't on the square since they artfully reveal tiny mirrors and even vanity cases with powder puffs on their reverse sides and lip sticks up their handles are bizarre and garishly ultra-modern with futuristic decorations and colorings.

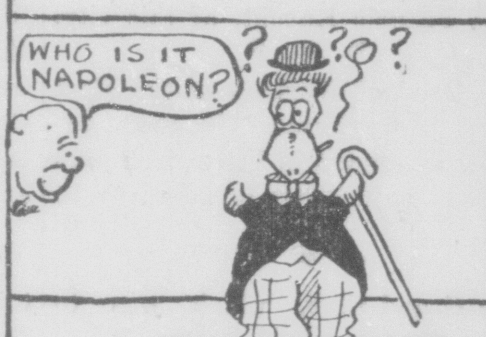

Perhaps the most snareful of all is, the one of silver gauze wired in silver to stimulate a spider's web with two crystal drops of dew glistening in its meshes.

Well wielded in the skilful hands of a 1916 debutante, it should never fail to make the fly catch of the season.

More Men Than Women Have Appendicitis

Surgeons state men are slightly more subject to appendicitis than women. Rushville people should know that a few doses of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, often relieve or prevent appendicitis. This mixture removes such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. The INSTANT easy action of Adler-i-ka is surprising. F. E. ASKS HELP FOR PREACHERS

Cottage Homes Suggested For Aged Ministers by Secretary.

(By United Press.)
 Chicago, Dec. 28.—Rev. C. A. Kelly, secretary of the Rock River conference endowment fund, today appealed to philanthropists to give cottage homes for aged preachers or their widows and orphans.
 "You could give a cottage home where the association could make a veteran preacher comfortable for life, and then pass it on to another," was Rev. Mr. Kelly's message to philanthropists.

Smoke FAIR PROMISE 5c Cigars

DRINK A GLASS OF REAL HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST.

Says we will both look and feel clean, sweet and fresh and avoid illness.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

WALTER SPRAY, 1011 South Second St., Frankfort, Ind.—"Before I took your medicine I suffered a great deal, but since I took the first dose I have not had a bad spell. I feel it is even more than you claim."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Addison and family of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Addison and family of Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Addison of Morristown, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Addison of Greenfield, and Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Lee and family of Rushville.

The annual party of the Century class of the Christian church will be given tomorrow evening at 7:30 in the basement of the church. An interesting and entertaining program has been arranged including solos by Mrs. M. R. McDaniel and Mrs. James Swihart, stories and riddles to be told by the members. It is announced that Elmer Humes will tell a story for the first time. After a social hour, refreshments will be served. B. F. Miller is the teacher of this class of men and Dr. C. H. Parsons, assistant.

Beautiful in every detail was the Christmas dance given last evening at the Phi Delta hall. The gayly moving panorama of the dancers—with the pale and gay colors of the girl's dresses harmonizing beautifully—transformed the party into a miniature fashion show. All was a delight, the spirit of the season being apparent in the gayety of the dancers. A profusion of palms decorated the hall. One corner was made attractive by an embankment of palms on a table. In another was a cozy corner, tastefully arranged between two Christmas trees, over which were shaded lights. The music, Kirby's orchestra from Indianapolis, was fine and played with the "pep," characteristic of college boys. About fifty couples were present. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Gertrude Green, of Indianapolis, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Green, who looked charming in a girlish light green taffeta; Edwin Dunn, of Pennsylvania; Leo Waters, of Cincinnati, who is the guest of Cullen Sexton; Hal Plummer, of Indianapolis; Floyd Kirklin, of Gaston; Mede Anderson, of Greencastle, who is visiting Robert Anderson and Leo LaVan of Cleveland, Ohio, who is visiting Denning Havens.

Phi Delta Kappa. Phi Delt from this and other chapters are anticipating with great pleasure the mid-winter meeting of the fraternity to be held in Connersville, Thursday, the thirtieth of this month. The meeting is held especially for the supreme executive committee, who will be the guests of Beta Delta chapter; the members of the fraternity, however, are invited and urged to attend. Every minute of the day will be full, according to the program arranged by the hosts. The morning and afternoon will be given over to business sessions; the banquet in the evening will be the fraternity dance in the evening. Montani's five-piece orchestra of Indianapolis will furnish the music.

The members of the executive council, for whom the meeting is to be held are as follows; president, Herbert L. Keck; Vice president, Phil A. Payne; Master of Ceremonies, J. Raymond Low; Auditor, Charles E. Sherman; Secretary-treasurer, Arden Green; Sergeant at Arms, Leon Louiso; Inner guard, O. S. Ashton; Honary president, Z. C. Sanderson; Outer guard, Claude W. Kemp. Charles Sherman of this city, who is Auditor of the fraternity, has held several offices on the supreme council.

Christmas decorations were used profusely in the home of Mrs. William Offutt Sunday, when she entertained the members of her family with a beautifully appointed dinner. Not only in the dining room, but throughout the house, Christmas colors of red and green and holly were tastefully used. The guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnes and children, of Connersville, Mrs. Edna Dagler and children, and Mrs. Mary Bursott, of this city.

The Amos home south of the city well known for its hospitality, was the setting for a merry scene Sunday when a number of relatives and friends were entertained at a most delectable dinner, by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Amos. A Christmas tree, gayly trimmed, was the only decoration. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Capp and children, Mr. and Mrs. Orph Harton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Strong of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Will Amos and children, Mrs. T. A. Poston, Mrs. Moore, Miss Claribel Moore, and Mrs. Kelley, the last three being from Indianapolis.

Four Jumps to Salonika

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Salonica, Nov. 2.—(By Mail) The sun goes down like an explosion in a paint factory in this part of the world.

All the mixtures of tongues and uniforms and ships and flags of the various armies and navies centering in Salonica are not in greater contrast than the melange of color which fills the evening skies as the sun sinks nightly behind the peak of Olympus where the Greek gods lived and played.

Even greater the variety of color in the city or the sky is the variety of opinion in the cafes when the thousands of men of many races gather with the lighting of the evening lamps to talk over what the future holds.

There are Germans here; they didn't move away when the allied armies came. Salonica is as much an ally headquarters as the headquarters in France but the Germans haven't departed because Greece is neutral.

The Germans are sure that sweeping past us 400 miles to the north,

the German hordes are pouring through Serbia toward Turkey. Some of them think that the time is not far distant when the Germans will be in Salonica, too.

Then what will these British and French do? Where will they run to? But you don't hear Germans talking this way, loudly. It's among themselves they say such things, in their own cafes.

Englishmen are divided. Most of them are glad the allies came to Greece, others say it was a mistake.

"Why won't Italy send an army to help in Serbia?" asks a Frenchman. "She could easily send 100,000 men. She ought to do as much as the allies, for her future is at stake."

"But Italy isn't fighting Germany. She's fighting Austria and she's going to put up such a stiff fight on the Italian frontier that the Austrians will have to withdraw troops from Serbia to keep the Italians back" explains an Italian newspaper correspondent.

Turks in their red fezzes, sit in the same cafes in Salonica with English officers fresh from the Turco-British fighting in the Dardanelles. Two weeks ago the Englishman was popping away with his rifle at every fez he saw. Today he passes them as placidly as if peace had been declared.

Indeed, it is a sort of peace that you in Salonica a peace of shooting but not of thinking. Bullets don't fly but opinions do. All the different opinions held in every corner of the world regarding the World War may be found here in this city of 185,000 persons and every evening after the sun has set the pace with his riot of color in the Olympian sky, the occupants of the old Greek city fill, with their riot of opinion, the Salonican cafes.

Through it all there's a tension in the atmosphere. Serbian refugees are in the city from Belgrade, Nish and Uskub. They are living remainders of that cyclone of war that is raging to the north of us.

Will that cyclone sweep past Greece and leave it unharmed? Or will the Germans come down to Salonica? And if they come shall we people of the city flee as the Servians have done?

Or will the Greeks go with the Germans and try to drive the allied armies out of Greece? All the men of Greece are mobilized; you can see them digging trenches along the Aegean sea as you come toward Salonica.

Will the Grecian king give the word to his army to fight the allies; the Queen of Greece, you know his wife—is a sister of the Kaiser of Germany, and the king's word is law, now that all the men of Greece are no longer mere citizens but have become soldiers.

Or perhaps the Greeks may go with the allies; is that possible? Will they try a dash into Bulgaria? Or will the Bulgarians try a dash at Salonica, this city where Bulgarians and Greeks fought one whole night through the streets, three years ago with the result that Salonica over night became a Greek city, while the Bulgarians fled?

All of these questions you hear discussed in the excited cafes of Salonica, these warm semi-oriental nights. Just now all the questions that the world is asking about what is going to happen in the neighborhood of Salonica are being asked in Salonica itself. The folks here don't know any more than the folks in New York.

But will the answer be any more important to them, near as they are to the scene, than it will be to New York? What happens in the Balkans, within the new few weeks, may send tidal waves to the ends of the earth and to the ends of human history.

ACTION AGAINST KIDNEY CURES

In One Case Shippers Are Prosecuted For Falsely Misbranding the Product.

ARE FINED $25 AND COSTS

In Another Instance Preparation Fraudulently Branded Was Seized.

Washington, Dec. 28. — Action against several so-called "kidney cures" has recently been taken under the Food and Drugs Act by the United States Department of Agriculture. In one case the shippers of a preparation labeled as "A Sure Cure For Bladder and Kidney Trouble" were prosecuted on the charge of falsely and fraudulently misbranding the product. They pleaded guilty and were fined $25 and costs by the court. This particular kidney "cure" was found to contain 41 per cent of alcohol. It was labeled "Old Jim Fields Phosphate Dill and Gin, Mankind's Greatest Friend, A Sure Cure For Bladder and Kidney Trouble. It is also a Great Aid in Case of Urinary Trouble. Allenberg & Meister, Sole Agents, Memphis, Tenn." An analysis of the product showed that it contained no material amount of either dill or phosphate.

In another case 48 bottles of "Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound" prepared by the Stuart Manufacturing Company, Atlanta, Ga., were seized. The court issued a decree of condemnation, forfeiture, and destruction on the ground that the claims upon the label were misleading, false and fraudulent. On this label the manufacturers recommended their product as a remedy for a great variety of kidney and bladder diseases, and stated that the medicine contained 16 per cent of alcohol.

According to medical experts of the Department, alcohol is a kidney irritant and is dangerous in many cases of kidney disease. For this reason many physicians advise their patients who suffer from any kind of kidney or bladder trouble to abstain from the use of alcohol even in moderate quantities. Some manufacturers of kidney medicines which contain considerable quantities of alcohol also advise their customers to abstain from all alcoholic drinks, showing in this way that they know the harmfulness of alcohol in kidney diseases, even though they use it in their own preparations. It is the opinion of the medical experts of the Department that such so-called "kidney remedies" as those recently seized are not only worthless but actually harmful, because of the amount of alcohol which they contain.

tivity of Republicans was there any call whatever for Democratic meetings. Apathy was general among the rank and file of the party with the result that finally the Democratic state leaders passed the word down the line that local meetings must be held. However, this working from the top did not have the desired effect as the Democratic meetings generally were spiritless and not well attended.

The effect of the past year's work, according to Republican leaders, has been to advance very materially the cause of the Republican party in Indiana. In the judgment of careful observers the Republican party in Indiana, at the close of the year, is in a more healthy condition than it has been for many and many a year. Enthusiasm is running strong and the hope of victory is high. The Republicans of Indiana are ready to enter the 1916 campaign. Organization work is easy for the reason that the rank and file is interested and in this fact is to be found the basis for the prediction of Republicans generally that the year that is just dawning is to be an old-fashioned Republican year.

Probably the best barometer showing the way in which the political wind is blowing in Indiana is to be found in the wealth of material available for places on Republican tickets next years. As a rule individuals do not seek party honors simply for the honor itself. They get real busy in this direction only when there is a rattling good chance of party success.

Contrast the present situation in Indiana, from a Republican standpoint, with that existing two short years ago. At that time Republican nominations generally were shunned. Few there were who were bold enough to proclaim that they wanted a Republican nomination. Up until within ten days of the last Republican state convention, there was no available material in sight for half of the Republican state nominations. Pressure finally had to be exerted in order to fill up the ticket.

How different today! An army of candidates is in search of the 1916 state nominations. And in the counties how different! In Republican counties, in edge counties and in counties that in the past have been generally considered as "safe" Democratic counties, Republican candidates for nominations are engaged in lively scrambles for party honors. And in what in the past have been known as rocked-ribbed Democratic, there is no dearth of Republican material with which to fill the tickets.

It is in the air all over Indiana that the Republicans are going to win in 1916. It is hard to go against the tide and for this reason the Democratic leaders in Indiana will find it about as hard to do effective organization work next year as the Republicans did in 1912. They are going into the Indiana fight dispirited and with public opinion against them. Some might figure that this situation possibly would work to the creation of a feeling of over-confidence among Republicans. However, careful inquiry from one end of the state to the other reveals the fact that there is no chance whatever of such a feeling developing as the Republicans are determined to realize fully on the present enthusiasm by organizing tightly down to the last precinct. "We will take nothing for granted—we will organize to the limit with the view of rolling up a plurality that will demoralize the Democratic opposition" is the tenor of all the reports that are coming into Republican state headquarters.

* PITY POOR AMATEUR IN ATHLETICS NOW. *

New York, Dec. 28.—Pity the poor amateur. He comes in for another bunch of eligibility resolutions and regulations today in a meeting here of amateur and collegiate associations representing most of the amateur athletic map of the country. The meeting, called by the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America, proposes an agreement whereby each association represented, will vouch for the Simon-purity of its athletes when they participate in other sports. In other words, as one of the congress put it today. Suppose a prominent golfer desires to participate in a track meet. Some question might arise concerning his amateur status as a sprinter, according to athletic rules, due to something he had done as a golfer. With an understanding between the bodies controlling these two sports, the athletic authorities could accept the golfer's entry on the golf association's word that his amateur standing was good. The Associations invited to participate are the Amateur Athletic Union, the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, the United Golf Association, the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse League, the American Amateur Hockey League and the United States Polo Association. The old riddle "What is an amateur" will be propounded also today and lengthy discussions are in stock for the occasion. One authority at the meeting has nine sheets of legal cap, closely typewritten, defining "amateur" as applied in athletics and there are as many variations as they are paragraphs.

law in Columbus, Indiana, and continued there until he enlisted in the Union Army, July 19th, 1862. He was a member of Company D, 67th Indiana Volunteers, and served as second lieutenant, first lieutenant and captain of his company. He also served as "aide de camp" on the staff of Maj. Gen. John A. McClelland and Maj. Gen. E. O. C. Ord at the Thirteenth Army Corps headquarters from February 1863 until April 1864. He participated in many of the decisive battles of the Civil War, including the siege of Vicksburg, from May 19th to July 4th, 1863. He was mustered out December 25th, 1864, and resumed the practice of law at Rushville, Indiana, where he continued in the active practice until January 1st, 1915.

He has been a member of the First Presbyterian church of Rushville, Indiana, since 1868, and was a member of the building committee when the present church was erected. He was also a member of the Board of Deacons and a trustee of the church for many years, and at one time served as a member of the Board of Trustees of White Water Valley Presbytery. We was at all times loyal to his church and liberal in its support.

He was a member of Phoenix Lodge, No. 62, F. & A. M., having served as Master in 1876. He served as High Priest in Rush Chapter, No. 24, R. A. M. for a period of ten years. He was a charter member of Rushville Council, No. 41, R. & S. M., which was chartered October 21st, 1874. He was also a charter member of Rushville Commandery, No. 49, Knights Templar. He was also a member of Ivy Lodge, No. 27, K of P. and of the Joel Wolfe Post, G. A. R. and of the Loyal Legion.

He was a Democrat, and was nominated for Judge of the judicial circuit composed of Rush, Fayette and Decatur counties in 1876 and in 1885 was appointed as a member of the Board of Trustees of Indiana Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home, by Gov. Isaac P. Gray, and was afterwards re-appointed by Gov. Hovey and Gov. Mathews, holding this position until 1897. He served two terms on the Democratic State Central Committee and was a close political and personal friend of Thomas A. Hendricks, Gov. Isaac P. Gray and Gov. Claude Mathews. During his practice at Columbus, he was deputy prosecuting attorney and assisted in the prosecution of some of the celebrated family of Renos, who were then terrorizing that section of Indiana.

Ben L. Smith was the oldest member of the Rush County Bar and was an active practitioner at the bar for half a century. He commanded the respect of lawyers, clients, business men and neighbors. He was a man of large brain power, and active mentality, a generous heart, ever heeding the appeal of those who were in need of distress. As a lawyer and soldier, he was a vigorous and fearless fighter, and was recognized as an antagonist worthy of his opponent's steel. In character, he was genial and courteous, and always seemed pleased to advise and assist the young lawyer just entering the profession. He was engaged on one side or the other in a majority of the important cases tried in the Rush Circuit Court since his admission to the bar, and the records of the Court, and the memories of the Judges and members of the bar of this and adjoining counties, as well as the Supreme and Federal courts, will show and recall his success.

Candidates For Legislature Are Not to Take Mileage Into Consideration in Their Fee

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Dec. 27.—Attorney General, Stolsenburg today gave out an interpretation of the new primary law in which he said that prosecuting attorneys shall be nominated under the provisions of the law, correcting an error widely published recently.

The attorney general also ruled that candidates for state senator and representative must pay one per cent of the total per diem received by him, or one per cent of $366, and that mileage will not be taken into consideration.

The rulings came in reply to a letter from Homer L. Cook, secretary of state, who asked concerning candidates for prosecuting attorneys and the legislature.

The rulings of the attorney general follow in full:

"The primary law (see section 1 thereof) expressly provides that prosecuting attorneys shall be nominated under the provisions of such law. Said law, by the provisions of Section 13, thereof, provides that a declaration of candidacy of all candidates for a judicial office shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. The office of prosecuting attorney is a judicial office and had been so declared by the supreme court of the state in several cases. I call your attention to one, which will suffice: State vs. Henning, 33 Indiana, 189.

"In answer to the second inquiry, it is my opinion that if the fee portion of said section No. 13 is upheld it will be only necessary for a candidate for the legislature to pay one per cent of three hundred and sixty-six ($366.00) dollars. The amount received by a member of the legislature for mileage, is not in the nature of a fee and need not be taken into consideration in calculating the fee to be paid in such Section 13."

DEMANDS WILL NOT BE RADICAL

Wage Agreements of Miners Expiring in April Adds Interest to Biennial Session

OPINION OF VICE-PRESIDENT

No Serious Disagreement is Expected to Develop—Demands Will be Made at That Time

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Dec. 28.—Interest in the biennial convention of the United Mine Workers of America to be held here January 18, was heightened today when it became known that all wage agreements of miners will expire April 1, and that the wage scale committee of miners will meet at the convention to decide what demands will be made upon the miners.

At international headquarters it was stated that this fact probably accounts for the report that railroads are storing up great quantities of coal in anticipation of a general coal strike to begin some time in April.

"It is unusual to have both the bituminous and anthracite wage agreements expire at the same time," said International Vice-President Frank J. Haynes of the miners today, "but I see nothing to indicate that the demands of the miners will be so radical as to result in a serious disagreement with the operators."

Haynes said he did not know what sort of demands the wage scale committee would make or whether the present wages would be satisfactory to any considerable extent. "We don't believe our demands will be radical," he said. "But the operators may so consider them."

SYMPATHY FOR FAMILY SHOWN

Letters of Condolence Pour in From
All Parts of State on Account
of Death of Ben L. Smith

ONE FROM GOVERNOR RALSTON

Impressive Ceremony is Held at Residence. This Afternoon When
Last Rites Take Place

The funeral services of the late Ben L. Smith were conducted this afternoon at the late residence by the Rev. D. Ira Lambert, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The Rush County Bar Association, of which Mr. Smith was a prominent member, attended the services in a body. Representatives from the bars of the surrounding counties were also present.

The beautiful and impressive ceremony of the Knights Templar was conducted at the residence instead of the cemetery on account of the weather. The following acted as pall bearers: Judge Douglas Morris, Col. E. H. Wolfe, R. G. Budd, Thomas A. Jones, William McMillin and Dr. Will C. Smith.

The members of Mr. Smith's family received a large number of letters from all parts of the state, expressing sympathy. The letters all show the high esteem in which Mr. Smith was held, not only by his profession, but by others as well.

The following is the letter of Governor Samuel M. Ralston: "No matter what the age or circumstances, death always comes as a shock; and one's father never grows so old that he is not missed and mourned by those who remain. You have my sincere sympathy in your great loss."

Others who sent letters to the family included John L. Rupp of Richmond; L. J. Hackney, Cincinnati, general counsel of the Big Four railway; and Morrison B. Waite, general solicitor of the C. H. & D. Judge Hackney said in part: "I am pained to learn of the death of Mr. Smith. For many years I have enjoyed his friendship. I can well understand your loss and that of your community."

The Rush County Bar association met in court room at 12:30 o'clock to pay respects to the memory of the late Mr. Smith. Judge Douglas Morris responded to the resolutions in behalf of the local bar. Speakers from other cities included Judge K. M. Hord, Judge Alonzo Blair, and Ed K. Adams of Shelbyville; D. W. McKee and Judge-elect Raymond Springer.

Tribute to Mr. Smith was paid by all of the speakers. His loyalty to his clients and his career as an attorney were reviewed at length and the entire proceeding was made a part of the court record. The resolutions as prepared by the committee composed of Frank J. Hall, Geo. W. Young and Samuel L. Traub are as follows:

In Memoriam.

Ben L. Smith was born November 20th, 1835, in Union township, Rush county, Indiana, and died in Rushville, Indiana, December 25th, 1915. He was the son of Ebenezer and Mary A. Smith, and a grandson of Moses Smith, who was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He attended district school in the old log school house on the county line and afterwards attended the Fairview Academy. He entered Asbury University (now DePauw) at Greencastle, Indiana, in September, 1853 and graduated from that institution in 1857. He then read law with Judge Delaney R. Barker at Greencastle, Indiana, and began the practice of

& W. Here Today

A broken axle on a freight car caused four loaded cars of an east-bound freight on the C. I. & W. to be derailed this morning about one o'clock near the Arthur street crossing. One car was loaded with corn. Fortunately enough, the mishap occurred alongside a siding and all trains were sent around the derailed cars without any loss of time. A wrecking crew came from Indianapolis and righted the cars.

RUSHVILLE MAN VISITS IN JUAREZ

Walter E. Smith One of Two Americans That Visit in Mexican City After Rioting.

EVERYONE CARRIED A GUN

Walter E. Smith of this city, who has been touring the west and who is expected home about the first of the year, was in El Paso, Texas the day after several persons were killed in Juarez, Mexico, just across the river last week, according to a postal card he wrote a friend here. He was very much disappointed when he arrived in El Paso and found he could not go on, over into Mexico. However, the day after his arrival, the cars were running, and the first car over carried two Americans, one of whom was the Rushville man.

The car was guarded by Mexican soldiers riding aboard, during the time the car was on Mexican soil. Mr. Smith writes that he has enjoyed the sights in the south very much. He says he carries the impression that about ninety-five per cent of the residents of El Paso are Mexicans. Mr. Smith was with an Elk from Globe, Arizona, who formerly lived at El Paso and spoke Spanish fluently. He says that he was glad to get back on American soil because everyone in Juarez carried a gun.

L. C. SHARP ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

Man Whose Meat Shop Was Raided
Saturday Night Gives Bond
For Appearance at Trial.

WAINSCOTT STILL IN JAIL

Luther C. Sharp was placed under arrest late yesterday afternoon as a result of a raid on his meat market in West Second street Saturday night. He entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of illegal sale and illegal possession of intoxicating liquor and gave bond for his appearance. The date for the trial has not yet been determined.

At the Sharp place the police found two full quarts of whiskey and part of a third quart. He maintains that the whiskey was for his own use and that it was received in a shipment in conjunction with ten other men.

No disposition has yet been made of the case of Milton Waincott, held on a similar charge. Waincott is still in jail, being unable to obtain bond. At the Waincott home in West Second street the police located seven quarts of whiskey

Closes Day's Campaign in Adjoining
County Monday With Speech at
Greensburg at Night

LARGE CROWDS GREET HIM

Has Kind Words For Opponent,
Harry S. New, But Claims
Advantage Due to Experience.

James E. Watson closed a tour of Decatur county in the interest of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the United States senate with a speech at the G. A. R. hall in Greensburg Monday night. He visited all of the towns in the county and greeted old friends.

Mr. Watson arrived at Sandusky at 8:45 Monday morning, according to the Greensburg Review, and was met at the train by the following party of Greensburg men in three cars who accompanied him on his tour: W. C. Pulse, G. S. Littell, E. E. Doles, J. P. Thomson, Charles M. Woodfill, C. E. Remy, Everett Arbuckle, L. D. Braden, N. T. Rogers, Arthur Lowe, Frank Hamilton and S. V. Pleak.

The party arrived at Clarksburg at 9:15 o'clock slightly in advance of the schedule. Mr. Watson got busy shaking hands and calling fellows by their first names as of old and showed that he had lost none of his well known skill as a mixer. Some one suggested a speech and in a few minutes a half hundred voters were in Tarplee's hall where Mr. Watson talked briefly.

He said frankly that he was a candidate and "by the eternals he wanted to be nominated and elected." He had nothing but kind words for his opponent, Harry S. New, but claimed an immense advantage over him by his ten years' experience in congress.

Mr. Watson made one statement that was somewhat surprising to most of his hearers. He said the majority of the Progressive party in 1912 and 1914 were for him. He said they had told him they were for him because they always knew where to find him and that he never "struck below the belt." The word likes a fighter when he fights fairly for a principle, he said.

About an hour was spent in Clarksburg after which the party started for Newpoint, arriving there at 11 o'clock. It was raining. There was forty or fifty men in waiting there and all wanted a speech. The crowd went to the hall where the distinguished visitor spoke briefly. There as at Clarksburg Watson brought into play his good right arm and hand-clasp.

The party arrived here at noon and dined at the Seitz Cafe and were off promptly at 1 o'clock for Adams. Reports from the various places over the county visited by the party Monday afternoon are to the effect that despite the bad weather he was greeted by good crowds and that he had the opportunity of meeting many old acquaintances. At Adams a large crowd of men and women listened to a fifteen minutes speech.

He was greeted by large crowds at Milford and Burney, and the other stops on the route.

NO DESIRE TO PROSECUTE.

Through a typographical error, the story Monday about the two dresses being taken from the porch of R. F. Scudder's home Christmas eve was made to read that Mr. Scudder would prosecute if he could find the offender, through the omission of the word "no." It should have been as Mr. Scudder said that he would not prosecute under any consideration, but that he would like to have the dresses returned.

JURY LOOKS TO BE DEADLOCKED

No Verdict Returned in the Crawley
Murder Case After All Night
Session at Connersville.

A METAMORA MURDER CASE

Self Defense is Plea of John R.
Crawley, Who Was Charged
With Killing Father-in-Law.

(By United Press.)
Connersville, Ind., Dec. 28.—The jury in the case of John R. Crawley of Metamora, charged with the murder of his father-in-law, Moses Whitney, was still out at two o'clock this afternoon. The jury appeared to be hopelessly deadlocked and unable to reach a verdict, although this opinion was not held by many, who confidently expect the fate of Crawley to be decided definitely one way or the other. The jury was out all night and the belief that no verdict would result was strengthened because of this.

The case went to the jury yesterday afternoon, about three-thirty o'clock. The case attracted considerable attention here and in surrounding counties. It reached the Fayette circuit court on a change of venue from Franklin.

Crawley maintained that he killed his father-in-law, Moses Whitney, in self-defense. The principle witness against him was his wife. The closing day of the trial was devoted to the closing argument. Prosecutor Edwards was the first speaker. He talked for over an hour, declaring that Crawley killed the aged Mr. Whitney without cause.

Raymond Springer, attorney for the defendant, was the second speaker. In a clear, steady and well controlled voice, he gave one of the most forceful addresses ever heard in the local court room. He cited several instances that might prove that the alleged murdered shot in self-defense. He asked that the jury give Crawley the benefit of any doubt.

Mr. Springer was followed by M. P. Hubbard of Brookville, also an attorney for Crawley. Mr. Hubbard maintained that Whitney was the aggressor in the trouble that resulted in his death. The final address for the state was delivered by I. N. McCarty, prosecuting attorney of Franklin county.

PRESIDENT WILSON IS 59

Telegrams From All Over Country
Only Indication of Birthday

Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 28.—President Wilson celebrated his 59th birthday today quietly with his bride. The only indication that the Executive has passed another milestone was the scores of telegrams from his friends in all parts of the world.

In health and spirit the President is many years younger than 59. His hair is quite gray, but he stands erect, 5' 11" inches in his stocking feet. Recently he tipped the scales at 171 pounds. He walks a great deal and plays lots of golf. Woodrow Wilson was born at Staunton, Va., December 28, 1856. His father was the Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, a distinguished scholar and clergyman of the south, and his mother, Jessie Woodrow Wilson, (his ancestry on both sides is Scotch-Irish).

The latest information had General Castelnau in Athens. Seventy-nine persons drowned. The vessel was torpedoed without warning and sunk in fifteen minutes. There were no Americans aboard.

WHOLE MATTER TO BE CLEARED UP SOON

Question of Submarine Warfare Will
be Settled in Austrian Reply to Ancona Note.

IS FORTHCOMING THIS WEEK

(By United Press.)
Berlin, (Via Amsterdam), Dec. 28.—The entire question of submarine warfare as affecting the United States may be cleared up within a few days, the United Press learned from authoritative sources today. Austria's reply to the second Ancona note will be banded to Ambassador Penfield this week. Assurance comes from reliable quarters that it is "satisfactory and final."

There is a strong party in the dual monarchy that has insisted that friendly relations with America be maintained. This party apparently has the upper hand.

TWO BIDS RECEIVED BY COMMISSIONERS

County Printing Awards Were to be Made This Afternoon, With Some Competition Shown.

LEVY BROTHERS ARE BACK

The county commissioners received two bids on the county printing contract for 1916 when bids were called for this afternoon. The bidders were Levy Brothers and Company of Indianapolis and A. E. Boyce and Company of Muncie. At a late hour today the commissioners were still considering the bids, but indications were that the Muncie firm would get the contract.

The bids were readjusted after the commissioners decided that to get a better price a little competition was necessary. At the first opening of the bids, Levy Brothers was the only firm bidding. In their bid today Levy Brothers cut the price of several articles over that of the first bid.

The commissioners were in session all day. The morning was taken up with the allowing of gravel road claims. The board will be in session again Friday when the year's business will be closed.

FUNERAL HELD YESTERDAY.

The funeral services of Miss Lorrana Morris, 12 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Morris, who died last Friday evening, were conducted Monday morning at the late residence near Orange, and burial took place in the North cemetery here. She had been ill for several months and death was not unexpected.

YEAR WILL STAND BANNER SEASON

Probably More Political Activity
For "Off Year" in 1915 Than Ever Before in Indiana.

NO CLOSE SEASON HERE

Big State-Wide Rally in Indianapolis
Its December 30 Will be Climax
to Eventful Year.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 28.—The year that is closing will probably long stand as the banner season for political activity in Indiana during what is generally termed an "off year" and the fact that practically all of this activity has been confined to Republicans goes to make 1915 even more remarkable in the political annals of the state.

The next day after the 1914 election, Republican state chairman, Will H. Hays, announced in a public interview that there would be no closed season in Indiana Republican politics, and the events of the past indicate that the Republicans of Indiana took him at his word and approved his decision with enthusiasm. With the opening of the new year Republican meetings began to be scheduled in various sections of the state with the result that during the winter and spring months demonstrations of unusual size and enthusiasm were held in every district in Indiana. It was supposed that a decided let up would come with the summer months but instead the activity seemed to increase, picnics, bean dinners, barbecues and burgoos feasts becoming the order of the day. The net result was that when the fall season came on three and four Republican meetings were being held each week. When the weather became too cold for outdoor meetings, the banquet season opened promptly.

The big state wide rally to be held in Indianapolis on Dec. 30th will mark the climax of this year of unusual activity and from all indications it will be a fitting close to a busy year. That it will in no sense tend to slow up Republican work is indicated by the fact that already six or eight Republican county meetings are scheduled to be held during January.

The significant thing regarding the 1915 Republican meetings, according to party workers, is the fact that the demand for these meetings came from the precincts and townships instead of from state headquarters. In this respect the meetings were in sharp contrast to the few meetings held by the Democrats during the year. Not until the Democratic state leaders had become thoroughly alarmed at the

Custom has made Christmas week a great Fur buying occasion.

The merchants provide liberal stocks and frequently offer unusually attractive prices.

But furs are something that must be bought with caution.

There is plenty of room for deception—for the foisting off of cheaper skins under high sounding names.

The buyer should patronize the store of sound repute where a guarantee is certain.

And the guide to such store will be found in the advertising in The Daily Republican.

FOR BRONCHITIS, PAINFUL COUGH, WHOOPING COUGH AND COLDS

Cheapest Remedy Made at Home—128 Teaspoonful for 50 Cents.

When in need of a remedy for the treatment of Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Stomach Coughs, Colds or Hoarseness, don't simply ask the druggist for a "Cough Medicine" but get the best. Tell him to give you Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expecto-rant, instead of being induced into buying something else purely on the strength of some testimonial or the exaggerated claims of the manufacturer. The same "Money Back" guarantee goes with every bottle of this remedy sold by Fox Bros. as does with Dr. Schiffmann's famous Asthmador and your money will be refunded, if it does not give perfect satisfaction; in fact even more, if it is not found the best remedy ever used for these affections. In buying this new remedy, besides securing the guarantee these druggists give, it will likewise be found the most economical to use for the reason that one bottle (50 cents worth) makes a full pint (128 teaspoonful) of the most excellent cough medicine, after being mixed at home with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water. One bottle will probably, therefore, be sufficient for a whole family's supply the entire winter, while the same quantity of the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds of medicine would cost between $2 and $3. It is prepared from strictly harmless plants, contains absolutely no chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic or injurious drugs as do most cough remedies, and it can therefore be given to children with perfect safety. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. Absolutely no risk whatever is run in buying this remedy under the above positive guarantee. R. J. Schiffmann, Prop., St. Paul, Minn.

Amusements

The Gem will offer the fourteenth chapter of "The Broken Coin," with Grace Cunard and Francis Ford in the leading parts, tonight, in addition to a clever comedy, "A Circumstantial Scandal," where Billie Rhodes and Ray Gallagher have ample opportunity to display their talents as humorists. Tonight's chapter of the serial is said to be most thrilling of any of its predecessors. A realistic fight between a yacht and shore forts is depicted. Wilton Backe, the famous actor, will be featured in "The Man of Shame" Wednesday, matinee and night and Thursday, another "Hazards of Helen" series will be shown.

Tonight's offering at the Princess, "The Apaches of Paris," is in four parts and tells the story of an American girl who is studying music in Paris and who eventually after a series of experiences succumbs to an unspeakable wretch. Another chapter of "Neal of the Navy" and "The Spider" will be on Wednesday night and Thursday the film favorite, Charles Chaplin, will be seen. Friday night the World Film Corporation presents the five part photoplay, "The Master Hand," based on Carroll Fleming's well-known drama of the same name, with Nat Goodwin in the leading role. When offered at the regular theatres of the country a few years ago, the drama was received with much applause. Nat Goodwin is the star of the photoplay, which abounds in the most thrilling situations and incidents, in the international romance story and in the well-acted and clever plot.

CHILD MUST BE SUPPLIED

James G. Miller, attendance officer for Rush county, has received a copy of a resolution adopted by the state board of truancy in which the word "attendance" is defined. Under the ruling of the board the child must not merely attend school, but must be equipped with books and other necessary supplies.

The resolution is as follows: "Be it resolved by the state board of truancy, that under the school attendance law (Acts of 1913, page 616) it hereby defines the word "attendance" as follows:

"That the attendance of a child at school shall mean the presence of such child in school each day, equipped with books and other necessary supplies, or a proper showing shall be made by parents, guardian or other person having the control or charge of such child that said parents, guardian or other person does not have sufficient means to furnish such child with the books and clothing necessary to such attendance at school.

"Be it further resolved, that in each case of tardiness or absence of a child from school a written excuse or explanation therefor shall be made to the teacher by the parents, guardian or other person having the control or charge of such child."

CHARGES DOWN A HILL BACKWARDS

Lester Smith's Automobile Becomes Unruly and Turns Turtle After a Wild Ride.

TOP BARELY SAVES HIS LIFE

Lester Smith of this city had a wild-ride backwards in an automobile down a steep hill on the road between here and Connersville Saturday night, according to a story in the Connersville Examiner. The accident happened just west of Asa Braen's farm. The car started backward when about half-way up the hill. The driver attempted to apply the emergency brake, but this device would not work. The car continued to gain speed and when it reached the base of the steep incline, it was traveling at forty miles per hour. The driver realized that he was in a serious position. He knew that only a few yards westward a creek crossed the road. Thinking that he could not possibly steer the unmanageable machine across the span, he gave the wheel a sharp turn, throwing the car into the ditch. The machine turned turtle, with the driver beneath. Fortunately the canopy top prevented young Smith from being crushed under the heavy weight. He was able to crawl from the wreck, and made his way to a near-by farm house, where assistance was summoned.

Mr. Smith did not know that the mechanical parts were damaged till the car stopped on the hill. Had the emergency brake took effect then, no accident would have resulted. Some part of the clutch apparatus gave way, and thus the machine was left without locomotive power. He was returning from a trip to Glen Bush when the accident occurred.

Machinists at Work.

A dispatch from Bluffton in the Indianapolis News details the work of the machinists of the Democratic party in Indiana. It is interesting to note that Frank C. Dailey, who recently sent in his resignation as United States district attorney for Indiana, had his announcement as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor ready for release when J. A. M. Adair telephoned the newspapers he was a candidate and Dailey refused to get into the race.

Dailey's alleged excuse was that his candidacy would complicate affairs because he and Adair both hail from the eighth district, but the dispatch from Bluffton purports that the real reason of Dailey's refusal to seek the nomination after the entrance of Adair was that Crawford Fairbanks, the Terre Haute brewer and so-called "bank roll" of the machine, had offered to wager that Dailey would never be the Democratic candidate for governor.

The Bluffton dispatch declares that George L. Saunders, editor of the Bluffton Banner, prepared the announcement of Dailey's candidacy and had it up in type ready for release on a certain Monday recently when Adair, on the morning of that same day, called up some of the Democratic newspapers in the eighth district and announced that he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination. That announcement never saw a press and never will, because it was "thrown in" without ever knowing what the smell of printing ink really is. Mr. Dailey later resigned as district attorney when he was offered a good place in an Indianapolis law firm.

Mr. Adair recently made a speech at Peru, in which he said he was not the candidate of any ring or machine. This indicates that he has been compelled to deny such accusations.

J. Forenoon Adair, Democratic candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, will have to get up earlier in the day if he gets away after the poor start he made. Not meaning the nomination, of course, but that little race that will bestagel after the perfunctory selection of a Democratic candidate for governor is made.

Governor Ralston's recent letter to Judge Ellis of Muncie on the question of law enforcement in that city may not have been for political effect, but at any rate the letter has been sent out to the Democratic press of Indiana in "boiler plate" form and many have printed it. Judge Ellis can hardly be blamed for complaining because Governor Ralston gave the letter out to the Indianapolis Star and it was in print before it had been received by Judge Ellis. Being made the "goat" of any transaction is always objectionable.

YEAR'S REVIEW OF WAR FROM FRENCH VIEWPOINT

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, Dec. 28.—Five significant events punctuated the year just drawing to a close as seen from the French point of view: The Battle of Champagne, the Balkan muddle, the change of Governments, the creation of an Inter-Ally War Council and the nomination of General Joffre as Commander-in-Chief of all the French armies, whatever the theatre of operations.

On the whole France regards the past year as one without brilliance so far as she or the Allies are concerned. Her victories have been rather negative. While her enemy has been making some great runs around the ends she and those fighting with her, have succeeded in keeping the ball pretty well in the middle of the field. The first half of the game seems about over, the Teutons have the ball but there have been no touchdowns. That is about the way the common sense Frenchman sizes up the situation at the close of 1915. The Battle of Champagne was important because it was the very first battle to be fought under present, trench-perfect conditions; it gave the French soldier a proper measure of himself. Though no important strategic point was gained by this of the enemy and a proper measure of victory, undoubtedly it will have its effect on 1916 operations because it settled several important points.

The Inter-Ally war Council leads Frenchmen to believe that the mistakes of the past are not likely to be repeated; from now on they have determined that the war plans of the Allies will dove-tail and that the coming year will register some real results.

The Balkan muddle has given France more anxiety, perhaps, than any other phase during 1915. Frenchmen openly admit failure there both diplomatically and militarily. Greece three times offered to join the Allies, once even before the Battle of the Marne in 1914, but each time she was refused admission. Then, when the Allies had fallen down at the Dardanelles and in Bulgaria and asked her to come in, she had changed her mind. It is admitted in certain circles, that had France and the Allies acted in concert and at the proper time, there is not the slightest doubt that Greece would have led the dance, that Bulgaria and Romania would today be fighting on the Allies' side and that the multi-colored flags of Germany's opponents would today be floating over the minarets of Constantinople.

The resignation of Theophile Delcasse, considered one of the greatest of Frenchmen from the office of Minister of Foreign Affairs, was due uniquely to the Balkan developments. Some say he opposed the sending of troops to Salonica; others declare he long ago advocated Big Stick methods in the Near East and that because his diplomacy there was not strongly backed up, King Ferdinand joined hands with the Kaiser instead of with the Allies. Take your choice. Whatever his reasons for resigning, his departure was the occasion of a complete reorganization of the Government. Premier Rene Viviani resigning to make way for M. Aristide Briand. The presence of Mr. Briand as Prime Minister is significant. He is known as a man of action, of initiative and strong measures.

The nomination of General Joffre as Supreme Generalissimo of all the French troops means two things: First, that Joffre will have absolute authority in the coming year and second, that the French army will be reorganized.

take the hint and agree to a full and complete co-ordination of all available forces. Competent authorities agree that German successes have been the result of a central control of effective, permitting rapid decisions quickly put into effect, whereas the Allies have not acted properly in concert and when at last after long delays they did get together, the measures agreed upon were slowly put into operation. The Inter-Ally War Council, composed of men who have the power to act, as it is said, Joffre will have from now on, ought to show results during the coming year.

Summed up, France's last year has been largely one of preparation. She hopes the coming year will be one of execution. People here call the new cabinet the Cabinet of Victory just as they call the new French loan of about 20 billion francs, the Loan of Victory.

The Frenchman hopes for peace during 1916. He considers the American peace talk the greatest puzzle of the year because peace now could mean but one thing; Defeat for the Allies.

The elevation of Joffre to his new position is an official commendation of his war policy, summed up by the experts as wearing the enemy down by "attrition," which Joffre calls "nibbling." Naturally this policy will be in force so long as Joffre is in the saddle. France made three heavy drives at the Germans during 1915, in March, May and September, but these drives were all feelers, I am told, to test the strength of the German line. The French soldier will tell you that French Man-power will outlast German Man-power, thanks to Joffre's nibbling; that sooner or later the German wall of steel will prove to be imitation, and, following a feeler the real drive will pour through the hole thus made and end the row.

A Berlin interview quotes General von Kluck as forecasting a drive towards Paris next spring. A French general told me that he hoped von Kluck was right as in that case the slaughter of Germans would be on such a vast scale that the whole world would gasp, used as it is to baths in blood. Those who have inspected the some 50-mile width of American barbed wire between Paris and the front, while not doubting that another attempt is possible, or even probable, fail to see how it can succeed.

Here then, is the forecast for 1916:

Comparative quiet along the Western front until Spring; then general offensives, both French and German; operations probable throughout the summer with a decision of some sort in the Fall.

This is a guess, but it is as good as any, whether from a general or a private. Of only one thing can one be certain: All the Expert dope is wrong.

Stomach Misery Quickly Vanisher

Your money back if you want it is the way in which Johnson's Drug Store the popular druggist are selling Mio-na, the great dyspepsia remedy.

This is an unusual plan, but Mio-na has so much merit and is so almost invariably successful in relieving all forms of indigestion that they run but little risk in selling under a guarantee of this kind.

Do not be miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia. Mio-na will help you. If it doesn't tell Johnson's Drug Store you want your money back and he will cheerfully refund it.

A change for the better will be seen from the first few doses of Mio-na and its continued use will soon start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

Mio-na has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. What fairer proposition could be made?

Johnson's Drug Store give their personal guarantee of "money back if you want it" with every box of Mio-na that they sell. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

STILL CARRIES OLD TIME FORCE

Monroe Doctrine is as Forceful as Ever, Declares Secretary Lansing at Congress

Chilean Ambassador Suarez Accepts New Doctrine in His Speech—Will Rule The World

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 28.—Positive declaration by Secretary Lansing that the Monroe doctrine still carries the force that has left it unchallenged through four decades marked the first session of the Pan-American Scientific congress her today. Warm acceptance of the doctrine of Pan-Americanism featured the address of Chilean Ambassador Suarez chairman.

"The Monroe doctrine is the national policy of the United States; Pan-Americanism is an internal policy of the Americas," Lansing said. "The motives are to an extent different; the ends sought are the same. Both can exist without impairing the force of either. And both do exist, and I trust, will ever exist in all their vigor."

The secretary drew a comparison between nationalism and internationalism.

"Internationalism," he said, "appeared to be an increasing influence throughout the civilized world when the present war of empires, that great manifestation of nationalism, stayed its progress in Europe and brought discouragements to those who had hoped the new idea would usher in a new area of universal peace and justice. Let us hope it is the final outburst of cardinal evil of that idea which has for nearly a century spend its baleful influence over the world."

"Pan-Americanism is an expression of the idea of internationalism. America has become the guardian of that idea, which will in the end rule the world."

Latin-America likes the United States' new Pan-American policy. Definite assurances of this were given Monday as the representatives of 20 American Republics responded to the welcome Vice-President Marshall and Secretary Lansing extended to the second Pan-American Scientific conference. Both speakers emphasized the new policy of non-interference in the affairs of other American nations. The object of the conference is to bring about closer co-operation in Pan-American relations in solving transportation, financial and scientific problems of common interest. President Wilson's recently announced interest in Pan-American matters gave it an unusual importance. Every one of the 21 Republics in the Western hemisphere is represented. Argentina appropriated $90,000 for its part in the 13-day session. An elaborate series of entertainments for the delegates and their wives has been arranged. Chief of these are the Pan-American reception at the White House, Jan. 7 and a farewell banquet, Jan. 8, both considered diplomatically important.

The most valuable result of Morgan's Raid, was the consolidation of public sentiment in favor of the Union throughout the states invaded. The demonstrations, and the intrigues of the "Knights of the Golden Circle" and "Order of American Knights," had induced Morgan to believe that he would receive substantial aid from many of the inhabitants of Indiana and Ohio when he was once in their midst. But the presence of a hostile force at their very doors aroused the people with a unanimity never displayed except just after the fall of Sumter. — Rouleau

Annual Report of Children's Bureau of U. S. Department of Labor is Made Public

ILLITERACY IS GREATER

In Rural Communities, Therefore, Need For Development of Child's Welfare is Seen

The need for developing standards of rural child welfare, physical standards for children in industry, and standards of law for the protection of all children, is the key note of the third annual report of the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor which was made public today.

Three-fifths of the 30,000,000 children in the United States are rural children. What are the facts as to rural child welfare? They are not known. But it is noteworthy that the percentage of illiteracy in rural communities, according to the 1910 census, is double that in cities. Where the rural child labor is great, the percentage of child illiteracy is high. The juvenile delinquency laws on the statute books of most of our States are ineffective over the greater part of those States because rural probation officers are lacking; the figures of correctional institutions show that the country is largely represented.

"Time and money are required to secure the facts about the physical, social, and economic conditions surrounding rural children, but these conditions must be understood if we are to be sure that we are making progress in securing a fair chance for every child."

"As a general rule compulsory school attendance ceases at the age of 14, the crucial point of maturing life, which educator and physiologist well know to be the most critical period of growth. Yesterday great authorities were experimenting on the best methods of training their minds, of developing their bodily powers. Today the same children are beyond the reach of all this costly solicitude—they have gone to work."

After quoting the opinion of various scientists, the report continues: "Full and intelligent protection of the physique and mental powers of the youthful workers of this country requires costly and laborious in laboratory and in workshop. The Children's Bureau desires to submit the reasonableness of spending money to make them so that we may secure just standards for the use of labor, as new standards for material are being developed."

"Various States have secured commissions to review and codify the laws relating to children. The needs of unfortunate children have first engaged the attention of philanthropic persons. But in preparing a complete code for the children of any State, the rights of all children must be considered. The study of legislation affecting children in the various States and Territories which the law requires the Children's Bureau to make should afford an increasing body of information at the service of those engaged in codifying the children's laws of any State."

The Bureau reports a year of activity dealing with eight different phases of child welfare. It has been studying the social causes of infant mortality, doing constructive work for child hygiene, co-operating in a general test of birth registration, preparing a report on social care of mental defectives and of illegitimate children, reviewing the principles of community provision for recreation, compiling laws relating to children and analyzing the administration of child labor laws and street trade regulations in selected typical States. It has also begun certain experimental activities which will indicate the way for the detailed studies of rural child welfare and the physical effects of child labor which it will undertake at some future time when staff and equipment permit.

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

BY MARGARET MASON
 (Written for United Press.)

Let a dear little maid
 Take a dear little fan
 And the things that she can
 Do to any poor man
 Are a lot I'm afraid.

New York, Dec. 28.—When the snow flies, little Miss Up-to-date takes her fan in hand even as she dons fur in August swelter. She would as soon think of going to opera or ball fanless as manless. And what fans! Fine feathers certainly make fine fans and fans of a feather flock together this season as never before.

But they don't open and shut together as much as they used to do, for the very newest form of feather fan is as old as the Queen of Sheba and consists of a gorgeous cluster of ostrich plumes poised on a single stick of sawed ivory, amber or tortoise shell.

The most vivid hued ostrich plumes are used and bright purple, yellow, green or blue, they make an effective high light of color for any costume.

The white or black feather fans seem still to cling to the open and shut model with their sticks of tortoise shell or amber usually gold inlaid or gem encrusted.

Ostrich feather fans still open and shut also but they aren't quite on the level either. Instead of forming the orthodox, symmetrical semi-sphere of a fan, they begin stubby and low down on one side and work up gradually to their highest point on the opposite side.

Peacock feather fans are the most fancied, of fantastic fans. They come either in the open and shut model or in the one stick effects. The latter are stunning and oriental on long, carved handles of gold inlaid ivory hand-carved, or jade.

Behind the many glowing eyes in the peacock's tail feathers, you can but expect a fair maid to make more eyes. Nor is it surprising that she could be much eyed.

Square fans that aren't on the square since they artfully reveal tiny mirrors and even vanity cases with powder puffs on their reverse sides and lip sticks up their handles are bizarre and garishly ultra-modern with futuristic decorations and colorings.

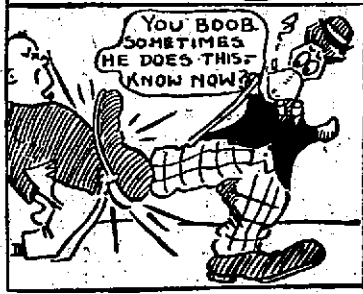

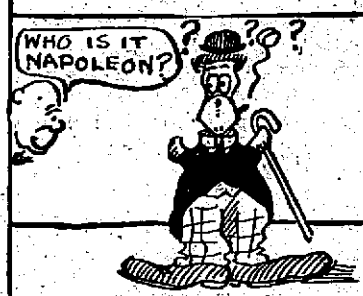

Perhaps the most snareful of all is, the one of silver gauze wired in silver to stimulate a spider's web with two crystal drops of dew glistening in its meshes.

Well wielded in the skilful hands of a 1916 debutante, it should never fail to make the fly catch of the season.

Says we will both look and feel clean, sweet and fresh and avoid illness

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

The Band of Workers of the First Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow afternoon in the church parlors. Every member is urged to be present.

The Grand Club, which was to have been entertained Thursday afternoon, by Mrs. Theodore Reed, has been postponed until Thursday afternoon, January 6th.

Little Miss Elizabeth Amos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Amos of south of the city, will celebrate her fourth birthday tomorrow by giving a party for a number of her friends in the afternoon.

Earl and Ernest Marlatt of this city were among the guests at a stag party given last evening by Paul Wilkins at his home in Connersville. A delightful dinner was served to the ten guests, after which they enjoyed a social hour.

Elks Dance.

Instead of a Watch party as has been announced, the Elks will give a holiday dance tomorrow evening in their hall. Refreshments will be served, Mitchell's orchestra will furnish the music, and a good time is promised to those who attend.

The Always Present Class, John P. Frazee's class of girls of the Christian church, will entertain their gentlemen friends with a leap year party, in the church parlors on Wednesday evening, of this week. The evening will be spent in games and contests, and light refreshments will be served by the hostesses.

The Misses Helen and Esther Black were hostesses at a sewing party this afternoon, for about fifteen of their girl friends. The afternoon was spent in sewing and embroidery work and a very pleasant time was enjoyed. A dainty one course luncheon was served by the hostesses.

The Tompkins family were guests at a most enjoyable dinner party given yesterday noon by Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Tompkins at their home in East Seventh street. Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tompkins, of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Betker, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tompkins, and son, John K., and J. W. Tompkins.

Miss Katie Lee Perry, daughter of Robert Perry, and Ralph E. Pitman, son of Will E. Pitman, were quietly married last evening at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. S. G. Huntington at the parsonage. The Sunday school orchestra of the M. E. church will assist in the musical program at the Watch-night service, Friday evening. At 9 o'clock there will be a sermon by the Rev. Don W. Nichols of Cincinnati. Dr. Nichols is an evangelist of the M. E. church and will have with him, Fred Geis, a singing evangelist who will sing during the evening. The membership and friends of this church are urged to attend this service.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Addison entertained their children and families at dinner Christmas day at their home in Carthage. Each of the five children were presented with a check for $100 and the ten grandchildren were each given one dollar. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Addison and family of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Addison and family of Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Addison of Morristown, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Addison of Greenfield, and Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Lee and family of Rushville.

Century Class.

The annual party of the Century class of the Christian church will be given tomorrow evening at 7:30 in the basement of the church. An interesting and entertaining program has been arranged including solos by Mrs. M. R. McDaniel and Mrs. James Swihart, stories and riddles to be told by the members. It is announced that Elmer Humes will tell a story for the first time. After a social hour, refreshments will be served. B. F. Miller is the teacher of this class of men and Dr. C. H. Parsons, assistant.

Christmas Dance.

Beautiful in every detail was the Christmas dance given last evening at the Phi Delta hall. The gayly moving panorama of the dancers, with the pale and gay colors of the girl's dresses harmonizing beautifully—transformed the party into a miniature fashion show. All was a delight, the spirit of the season being apparent in the gaiety of the dancers. A profusion of palms decorated the hall. One corner was made attractive by an embankment of palms on a table. In another was a cozy corner, tastefully arranged between two Christmas trees, over which were shaded lights. The music, Kirby's orchestra from Indianapolis, was fine and played with the "pep" characteristic of college boys. About fifty couples were present. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Gertrude Green, of Indianapolis, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Green, who looked charming in a girlish light green taffeta; Edwin Dunn, of Pennsylvania; Leo Waters, of Cincinnati, who is the guest of Cullen Sexton; Hal Plummer, of Indianapolis; Floyd Kirklin, of Gaston; Mede Anderson, of Greencastle, who is visiting Robert Anderson and Leo LaVan of Cleveland, Ohio, who is visiting Denning Havens.

Phi Delta Kappa.

Phi Deltas from this and other chapters are anticipating with great pleasure the mid-winter meeting of the fraternity to be held in Connersville, Thursday, the thirtieth of this month. The meeting is held especially for the supreme executive committee, who will be the guests of Beta Delta chapter; the members of the fraternity, however, are invited and urged to attend. Every minute of the day will be full, according to the program arranged by the hosts. The morning and afternoon will be given over to business sessions; the banquet in the evening will be the fraternity dance in the evening. Montani's five-piece orchestra of Indianapolis will furnish the music.

The members of the executive council, for whom the meeting is to be held, are as follows: president, Herbert L. Keefe, vice president, Phil A. Payne, master of ceremonies,

J. Raymond Low, Auditor, Charles E. Sherman, Secretary, treasurer, Arden Green, Sergeant at Arms, Leon Louiso, Inner guard, O. S. Ashton, Honorary president, Z. C. Sanderson, Outer guard, Claude W. Kemp. Charles Sherman of this city, who is Auditor of the fraternity, has held several offices on the supreme council.

Christmas decorations were used profusely in the home of Mrs. William Offutt Sunday, when she entertained the members of her family with a beautifully appointed dinner. Not only in the dining room, but throughout the house, Christmas colors of red and green and holly were tastefully used. The guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnes and children, of Connersville, Mrs. Edna Dagler and children, and Mrs. Mary Bursott, of this city.

The Amos home south of the city well known for its hospitality, was the setting for a merry scene Sunday when a number of relatives and friends were entertained at a most delectable dinner, by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Amos. A Christmas tree, gayly trimmed, was the only decoration. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Capp and children, Mr. and Mrs. Orph Harton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Strong of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Will Amos and children, Mrs. T. A. Poston, Mrs. Moore, Miss Claribel Moore, and Mrs. Kelley, the last three being from Indianapolis.

Republican Politicians Believe Indiana Candidate Has Best Chances Right Now.

HE HAS KENTUCKY SEWED UP

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 28.—No matter how the race of favorite sons ends, Charles Warren Fairbanks of Indiana will have the lead at the start, Republican politicians agreed.

Fairbanks is believed to have lined up Kentucky to a fair degree of solidity, being the only outsider who has campaigned there.

The state committee has declared for him and the state convention in February is expected to follow suit. Indiana thus far has no other candidate to consider at the primary March 7.

Four Jumps to Salonika

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.

(U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Salonica, Nov. 2.—(By Mail) The sun goes down like an explosion in a paint factory in this part of the world.

All the mixtures of tongues and uniforms and ships and flags of the various armies and navies centering in Salonica are not in greater contrast than the melange of color which fills the evening skies as the sun sinks nightly behind the peak of Olympus where the Greek gods lived and played.

Even greater the variety of color in the city or the sky is the variety of opinion in the cafes when the thousands of men of many races gather with the lighting of the evening lamps to talk over what the future holds.

There are Germans here; they didn't move away when the allied armies came. Salonica is as much an ally headquarters as the headquarters in France but the Germans haven't departed because Greece is neutral.

The Germans are sure that sweeping past us 400 miles to the north,

the German hordes are pouring through Serbia toward Turkey. Some of them think that the time is not far distant when the Germans will be in Salonica, too.

Then what will these British and French do? Where will they run to? But you don't hear Germans talking this way, loudly. It's among themselves they say such things, in their own cafes.

Englishmen are divided. Most of them are glad the allies came to Greece, others say it was a mistake.

"Why won't Italy send an army to help us in Serbia?" asks a Frenchman. "She could easily send 100,000 men. She ought to do as much as the allies, for her future is at stake."

"But Italy isn't fighting Germany. She's fighting Austria and she's going to put up such a stiff fight on the Italian frontier that the Austrians will have to withdraw troops from Serbia to keep the Italians back" explains an Italian newspaper correspondent.

Turks in their red fezzes, sit in the same cafes in Salonica with English officers fresh from the Turco-British fighting in the Dardanelles. Two weeks ago the Englishman was popping away with his rifle at every fez he saw. Today he passes them as placidly as if peace had been declared.

Indeed, it is a sort of peace that you in Salonica a peace of shooting but not of thinking. Bullets don't fly but opinions do. All the different opinions held in every corner of the world regarding the World War may be found here in this city of 185,000 persons and every evening after the sun has set the pace with his riot of color in the Olympian sky, the occupants of the old Greek city fill, with their riot of opinion, the Salonican cafes.

Through it all there's a tension in the atmosphere. Serbian refugees are in the city from Belgrade, Nish and Uskub. They are living reminders of that cyclone of war that is raging to the north of us.

Will that cyclone sweep past Greece and leave it unharmed? Or will the Germans come down to Salonica? And if they come shall we people of the city flee as the Serbians have done?

Or will the Greeks go with the Germans and try to drive the allied armies out of Greece? All the men of Greece are mobilized; you can see them digging trenches along the Aegean sea as you come toward Salonica.

Will the Grecian king give the word to his army to fight the allies; the Queen of Greece, you know his wife—is a sister of the Kaiser of Germany, and the king's word is law, now that all the men of Greece are no longer mere citizens but have become soldiers.

Or perhaps the Greeks may go with the allies; is that possible? Will they try a dash into Bulgaria? Or will the Bulgarians try a dash at Salonica, this city where Bulgarians and Greeks fought one whole night through the streets, three years ago with the result that Salonica over night became a Greek city, while the Bulgarians fled?

All of these questions you hear discussed in the excited cafes of Salonica, these warm semi-oriental nights. Just now all the questions that the world is asking about what is going to happen in the neighborhood of Salonica are being asked in Salonica itself. The folks here don't know any more than the folks in New York.

But will the answer be any more important to them, near as they are to the scene, than it will be to New York? What happens in the Balkans, within the new few weeks, may send tidal waves to the ends of the earth and to the ends of human history.

ACTION AGAINST KIDNEY CURES

In One Case Shippers Are Prosecuted For Falsely Misbranding the Product.

In Another Instance Preparation Fraudulently Branded Was Seized.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Action against several so-called "kidney cures" has recently been taken under the Food and Drugs Act by the United States Department of Agriculture. In one case the shippers of a preparation labeled as "A Sure Cure For Bladder and Kidney Trouble" were prosecuted on the charge of falsely and fraudulently misbranding the product. They pleaded guilty and were fined $25 and costs by the court. This particular kidney "cure" was found to contain 41 per cent of alcohol. It was labeled "Old Jim Fields Phosphate Dill and Gin, Mankind's Greatest Friend, A Sure Cure For Bladder and Kidney Trouble. It is also a Great Aid in Case of Urinary Trouble. Allenberg & Meister, Sole Agents, Memphis, Tenn." An analysis of the product showed that it contained no material amount of either dill or phosphate.

In another case 48 bottles of "Stuart's Buchu and Judiper Compound" prepared by the Stuart Manufacturing Company, Atlanta, Ga., were seized. The court issued a decree of condemnation, forfeiture, and destruction on the ground that the claims upon the label were misleading, false and fraudulent. On this label the manufacturers recommended their product as a remedy for a great variety of kidney and bladder diseases, and stated that the medicine contained 16 per cent of alcohol.

According to medical experts of the Department, alcohol is a kidney irritant and is dangerous in many cases of kidney disease. For this reason many physicians advise their patients who suffer from any kind of kidney or bladder trouble to abstain from the use of alcohol even in moderate quantities. Some manufacturers of kidney medicines which contain considerable quantities of alcohol also advise their customers to abstain from all alcoholic drinks, showing in this way that they know the harmfulness of alcohol in kidney diseases, even though they use it in their own preparations. It is the opinion of the medical experts of the Department that such so-called "kidney remedies" as those recently seized are not only worthless but actually harmful, because of the amount of alcohol which they contain.

tivity of Republicans was there any call whatever for Democratic meetings. Apathy was general among the rank and file of the party with the result that finally the Democratic state leaders passed the word down the line that local meetings must be held. However, this working from the top did not have the desired effect as the Democratic meetings generally were spiritless and not well attended.

The effect of the past year's work, according to Republican leaders, has been to advance very materially the cause of the Republican party in Indiana. In the judgment of careful observers the Republican party in Indiana, at the close of the year, is in a more healthy condition than it has been for many and many a year. Enthusiasm is running strong and the hope of victory is high. The Republicans of Indiana are ready to enter the 1916 campaign. Organization work is easy for the reason that the rank and file is interested and in this fact is to be found the basis for the prediction of Republicans generally that the year that is just dawning is to be an old fashioned Republican year.

Probably the best barometer showing the way in which the political wind is blowing in Indiana is to be found in the wealth of material available for places on Republican tickets next year. As a rule individuals do not seek party honors simply for the honor itself. They get real busy in this direction only when there is a rattling good chance of party success.

Contrast the present situation in Indiana, from a Republican standpoint, with that existing two short years ago. At that time Republican nominations generally were shunned. Few there were who were bold enough to proclaim that they wanted a Republican nomination. Up until within ten days of the last Republican state convention, there was no available material in sight for half of the Republican state nominations. Pressure finally had to be exerted in order to fill up the ticket.

How different today! An army of candidates is in search of the 1916 state nominations. And in the counties how different! In Republican counties, in close counties and in counties that in the past have been generally considered as "safe" Democratic counties, Republican candidates for nominations are engaged in lively scrambles for party honors. And in what in the past have been known as rocky-ribbed Democratic, there is no dearth of Republican material with which to fill the tickets.

It is in the air all over Indiana that the Republicans are going to win in 1916. It is hard to go against the tide and for this reason the Democratic leaders in Indiana will find it about as hard to do effective organization work next year as the Republicans did in 1912. They are going into the Indiana fight dispirited and with public opinion against them. Some might figure that this situation possibly would work to the creation of a feeling of over-confidence among Republicans. However, careful inquiry from one end of the state to the other reveals the fact that there is no chance whatever of such a feeling developing as the Republicans are determined to realize fully on the present enthusiasm by organizing tightly down to the last precinct. "We will take nothing for granted—we will organize to the limit with the view of felling up a plurality that will demoralize the Democratic opposition" is the tenor of all the reports that are coming into Republican state headquarters.

PITY POOR AMATEUR IN ATHLETICS NOW.

(By United Press.)

New York, Dec. 28.—Pity the poor amateur. He comes in for another bunch of eligibility resolutions and regulations today in a meeting here of amateur and collegiate associations representing most of the amateur athletic map of the country. The meeting, called by the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America, proposes an agreement whereby each association represented, will vouch for the Simon-purity of its athletes when they participate in other sports. In other words, as one of the congress put it today: Suppose a prominent golfer desires to participate in a track meet. Some question might arise concerning his amateur status as a sprinter, according to athletic rules, due to something he had done as a golfer. With an understanding between the bodies controlling these two sports, the athletic authorities could accept the golfer's entry on the golf association's word that his amateur standing was good. The Associations invited to participate are the Amateur Athletic Union, the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the National Association of Amateur Olympians, the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, the United Golf Association, the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse League, the American Amateur Hockey League and the United States Polo Association. The old riddle "What is an amateur?" will be propounded also today and lengthy discussions are in stock for the occasion. One authority at the meeting has some sheets of legal copy closely typewritten defining "amateur" as applied in athletics and there are some variations as they

law in Columbus, Indiana, and continued there until he enlisted in the Union Army, July 19th, 1862. He was a member of Company D, 87th Indiana Volunteers, and served as second lieutenant, first lieutenant and captain of his company. He also served as "aide de camp" on the staff of Maj. Gen. John A. McClelland and Maj. Gen. E. O. C. Ord at the Thirtieth Army Corps headquarters from February 1863 until April 1864. He participated in many of the decisive battles of the Civil War, including the siege of Vicksburg, from May 19th to July 4th, 1863. He was mastered out December 25th, 1864, and resumed the practice of law at Rushville, Indiana, where he continued in the active practice until January 1st, 1915.

He has been a member of the First Presbyterian church of Rushville, Indiana, since 1868, and was a member of the building committee when the present church was erected. He was also a member of the Board of Deacons and a trustee of the church for many years, and at one time served as a member of the Board of Trustees of White Water Valley Presbytery. We was at all times loyal to his church and liberal in its support.

He was a member of Phoenix Lodge, No. 62, F. & A. M., having served as Master in 1876. He served as High Priest in Rush Chapter, No. 24, R. A. M. for a period of ten years. He was a charter member of Rushville Council, No. 41, R. & S. M., which was chartered October 21st, 1874. He was also a charter member of Rushville Commandery, No. 49, Knights Templar. He was also a member of Ivy Lodge, No. 27, K. of P. and of the Joel Wolfe Post, G. A. R. and of the Loyal Legion.

He was a Democrat, and was nominated for Judge of the judicial circuit composed of Rush, Fayette and Decatur counties in 1876 and in 1885 was appointed as a member of the Board of Trustees of Indiana Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home, by Gov. Isaac P. Gray, and was afterwards re-appointed by Gov. Hovey and Gov. Mathews, holding this position until 1897. He served two terms on the Democratic State Central Committee and was a close political and personal friend of Thomas A. Hendricks, Gov. Isaac P. Gray and Gov. Claude Mathews. During his practice at Columbus, he was deputy prosecuting attorney and assisted in the prosecution of some of the celebrated family of Renos, who were then terrorizing that section of Indiana.

Ben L. Smith was the oldest member of the Rush County Bar and was an active practitioner at the bar for half a century. He commanded the respect of lawyers, clients, business men and neighbors. He was a man of large brain power, and active mentality, a generous heart, ever heeding the appeal of those who were in need of distress. As a lawyer and soldier, he was a vigorous and fearless fighter, and was recognized as an antagonist worthy of his opponent's steel. In character, he was genial and courteous, and always seemed pleased to advise and assist the young lawyer just entering the profession. He was engaged on one side or the other in a majority of the important cases tried in the Rush Circuit Court since his admission to the bar, and the records of the Court, and the memories of the Judges and members of the bar of this and adjoining counties, as well as the Supreme and Federal courts, will show and recall his success.

PROSECUTORS TO COME UNDER LAW

Attorney General Rules That They Shall be Nominated at Primary Thus Correcting Error

ALSO REPRESENTATIVES

Candidates For Legislature Are Not to Take Mileage Into Consideration in Their Fee

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Dec. 27.—Attorney General, Stolsenburg today gave out an interpretation of the new primary law in which he said that prosecuting attorneys shall be nominated under the provisions of the law, correcting an error widely published recently.

The attorney general also ruled that candidates for state senator and representative must pay one per cent of the total per diem received by him, or one per cent of $360, and that mileage will not be taken into consideration.

The rulings came in reply to a letter from Homer L. Cook, secretary of state, who asked concerning candidates for prosecuting attorneys and the legislature.

The rulings of the attorney general follow in full:

"The primary law (see section 1 thereof) expressly provides that prosecuting attorneys shall be nominated under the provisions of such law. Said law, by the provisions of Section 13, thereof, provides that a declaration of candidacy of all candidates for a judicial office shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. The office of prosecuting attorney is a judicial office and had been so declared by the supreme court of the state in several cases. I call your attention to one, which will suffice: State vs. Henning, 33 Indiana, 189.

"In answer to the second inquiry, it is my opinion that if the fee portion of said section No. 13 is upheld it will be only necessary for a candidate for the legislature to pay one per cent of three hundred and sixty-six ($366.00) dollars. The amount received by a member of the legislature for mileage, is not in the nature of a fee and need not be taken into consideration in calculating the fee to be paid in such Section 13."

DEMANDS WILL NOT BE RADICAL

Wage Agreements of Miners Expiring in April Adds Interest to Biennial Session

OPINION OF VICE-PRESIDENT

No Serious Disagreement is Expected to Develop—Demands Will be Made at That Time

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Dec. 28.—Interest in the biennial convention of the United Mine Workers of America to be held here January 18, was heightened today when it became known that all wage agreements of miners will expire April 1, and that the wage scale committee of miners will meet at the convention to decide what demands will be made upon the miners.

At international headquarters it was stated that this fact probably accounts for the report that railroads are storing up great quantities of coal in anticipation of a general coal strike to begin some time in April.

"It is unusual to have both the bituminous and anthracite wage agreements expire at the same time," said International Vice-President Frank J. Haynes of the miners today, "but I see nothing to indicate that the demands of the miners will be so radical as to result in a serious disagreement with the operators."

Haynes said he did not know what sort of demands the wage scale committee would make or whether the present wages would be satisfactory to any considerable extent. "We don't believe our demands will be radical," he said. "But the operators may so consider them."

REFUSES TO DISMISS CASE

Judge Will Not Allow New Haven Directors to go Free.

(By United Press.)

New York, Dec. 28.—Federal Judge Hunt today denied the motion to dismiss the indictment charging eleven former and present directors of the New Haven railroad with conspiracy. He ruled that all of the defendants must put in a defense and that the case go to the jury. The directors are on trial on charges of violating the conspiracy section of the Sherman anti-trust law, the government alleging that they conspired to monopolize transportation in New England.
